Reinhart Threatens To Slap Face of Columbus Man on Stand

An exchange of words and a near fight between two brought an end today to in the trial of Frank former Marion man with embezzling $13 000 late conservation divi he was its chief ac The Associated Press re-

Brothers case which went th day this morning in county common pleas expected to go to the afternoon after com of arguments of attorneys charge of the court Prose- Attorney Donald Hoskins

Excitement this morning de- with the recalling to the of William Reinhart of San former head of the conserva on who denied yesterday ordered Brothers to deposit in a personal account of placing them with the Treasurer as required by law Reinhart Shouts No

Reinhart shouted no when de- counsel asked him if he knew Bert C Bond of Columbus and dodge ter Mary Bond Brothers co- called Bond and his daugh before the witness stand but Reinhart denied any recollection of them

Counsel then asked Reinhart in 1934 he had not said to Brothers in the Bonds presence I make laws around here You do as I say or you will be fired

No Reinhart exclaimed I never fired the head of any depart ment I should have done it.

Later in a corridor Reinhart told Bond he did not remember him

Is there anything the matter with me? Bond inquired

You can't talk to me that way I've put a little spot in my life I'll put your face Reinhart told Bond

Bond later repeated them

Assistant Prosecutor Forrest Deatrick in his closing argument to the jury said Brothers had spent money received by him as chief counsel for the division but had failed to name a person to whom payments were made or to offer a receipt or cancelled check in details payments

I never saw a more bold liar on the witness stand than Frank Brother Deatrick said

Defense Attorney Demus B Ulry followed with praise of Brothers as a working man and recalled that the defendant was in the service of the conservation division 10 years Ulry held Reinhart responsible for Brothers action in confusing his accounts in an irregular manner through a personal bank account

Reinhart Voices Denial

Brothers defense that he deposited funds of the division in a personal account in a Columbus bank at the directions of Reinhart suffered a setback yesterday when Reinhart vigorously denied ever issuing such instructions

Reinhart was called by the prosecution as a rebuttal witness after the defense had completed its case for the day before adjournment yesterday

In shutting the testimony given by Brothers that he put division funds into a personal account to pay some bills of the division Hoskins asked Reinhart

Did you in October 1931 tell Mr Brothers to place state money in the personal account in the Marion Exchange bank to pay some bills of the division?

A lightening in the witness chair Reinhart looked at the jury and said in a loud voice Positively no

Hoskins continued Did you tell him there was too much red tape in getting and paying the bills out of the state treasury?

Reinhart quickly answered No

Vigorous Answers

Did he ever make known to you that he was putting state money in a personal account?

No

Reinhart vigorously denied he knew Brothers had a personal account

Apparently incensed by the remark that had been cast upon his administration as commissioner Reinhart fairly snapped his answer to the cross-examination by Hoskins Shearer defense attorney rushed

You don't like Frank Brothers? Reinhart quickly replied

I won't say as to that. I went to help him out He lied to Reinhart said he figured from

COURT CONFISCATES HINTZE'S AUTO TAGS

Driver's Liability Law Invoked Here First Time in Traffic Death

The new drivers liability law went into effect for the first time in Marion county today when the license plates of David Hintze 45 of Elm street were confiscated and placed in the care of Clerk of Courts Everett B Grigsby

Hintze was sentenced to a six month term in the county jail this month when he pleaded guilty in common pleas court to a charge of leaving the scene of an accident The charge was one of two on which Hintze was indicted in connection with the hit and run traffic death of Miss Gertrude Seckel in April

The drivers' liability law provides that when a person is convicted or pleads guilty to a charge growing out of a traffic accident he loses his license plates for the period the court has suspended his driving rights Judge Hector S Young suspended Hintze's rights until April 1 of next year

COUNCIL ACTS TO CUT FIRE, POLICE FORCES

Director Ruth Prepares List of Men To Be Affected by Reduction

TWO VOTES IN OPPOSITION

Officials in Columbus To Confer With State Civil Service Commissioners

Legislation furloughing nine firemen and 11 policemen in d finite was adopted last night at a special meeting of city council As a result Service Director John V Ruth today prepared to lay off the men as soon as he can learn from state civil service authorities which ones will be affected

Two ordinances embodying the layoffs were adopted as emergency measures and became effective at once They were adopted by a six to two vote Councilmen William A Shuster and Clarence Hart opposing the move

The furloughs leave 21 firemen and 11 policemen on the payroll However three of the policemen are being paid from contributions made by merchants and the force will be cut to eight men if merchant discontinue their support

In a formal statement read to council at the close of last night's meeting Mayor Frederick C Smith who with two council committees had recommended adoption of the legislation said he viewed the layoffs as the only possible course for the city to follow as a result of defeat of the 3 2 mill city levy at the primary election

Conference in Columbus

Service Director John V Ruth supervisory head of both the police and fire departments City Solicitor Ralph E Carhart and City Clerk Harry Brookshire this morning went to Columbus to confer with the state civil service commission to determine what members of the two departments will be affected by the layoff

Officials said there was little doubt about what firemen would be laid off because all the men furloughed in that department have the same civil service rating as regular firemen They will be laid off in order of their seniority in the department.

In the police department however it was uncertain who would be affected because councils action last night provides only for a chief and seven patrolmen in the department Council members expressed a desire to lay off policemen in the order of their seniority but whether this could be done in view of the fact two men in the department are cap

DILL CASE SET FOR HIGH COURT

Verdict Awarding Plaintiff $5 000 Brings Promise of Appeal by Former Senator

JURY REPORTS TWO TIMES

Sent Back by Judge After Failing To Answer Questions He Asked About Senator

By The Associated Press

MT VERNON O May 22—A $5 000 verdict for Margie Heaton Dill delivered last night in her $25,000 alienation of affections suit against former Sen C C Dill and Mrs Grace Dill headed the case today toward higher court

I will appeal to the highest courts of the state before I will pay a penny in this case Dill said as he left for Washington D C late yesterday just before a common pleas jury brought in the verdict for the second time

L C Stillwell counsel for the Dills said the case undoubtedly will be appealed He has three weeks in which to present an appeal

Wants Explanation

Judge Philip L Wilkins accepted the verdict an hour and a half after refusing a similar one on the ground that the jury had failed to answer adequately an interrogatory in which he required explanation for connecting the former senator with the case if a judgment were given against him

Mrs Grace Dill mother in law of Margie Heaton Dill refused to comment on the verdict at her home in Fredericktown Margie Heaton Dill charged in her complaint that her mother in law and the former senator from Spokane Wash an uncle by marriage alienated the affections of Windell Dill with whom she eloped after high school romance and arranged an illegal operation a month after their marriage in 1934

There was no reference in the verdict to the alleged illegal operation

I don't care about the money Margie Heaton Dill said after the verdict. I got my satisfaction

Decided From Start

It was learned that the jury of eight women and four men stood nine to three almost from the beginning of deliberations for Margie Heaton Dill and soon agreed upon the sum Discussion of Judge Wilkins interrogatory

TOWNSEND MAY FACE TRIAL FOR WALK-OUT

TRAFFIC RULES CHANGE ASKED

Auto Club Wants Turns Restored at Main and Center Streets

LETTER SENT TO COUNCIL

Restoration of Former System of Light Operation Also Requested.

Elimination of no left or right turn signs at Main and Center streets on Saturdays from 1 to 10 p m was recommended to city council last night in a letter sent by the Marion Auto club

The club also urged that uptown traffic lights be restored to their previous frequency of light changes to speed up traffic

Council referred the letter to the street and alley committee for a study

The no turn signs have been used on Saturday afternoons and nights at Main and Center streets primarily for protection of pedestrians Their removal was urged last year by the state highway department because the signs prevented tourist traffic from turning at the intersection where three state routes converge

The clubs letter to city officials follows

It is the unanimous opinion of the board of trustees of the Marion Auto club that the usual signs prohibiting right and left turns at the intersection of Center and Main streets should be removed Also that the traffic lights should be returned to the original timing used when they were first installed to assist the speedy passage of vehicles and eliminate traffic jams and that steps should be taken to secure legislation in the city council favoring these changes

The Marion Auto club is the only organization representing the motoring public of this county Therefore we feel free to make these suggestions

The previous mayor service director and council did not take any action on our request and members of the board of trustees were of the opinion that the present city officials would at least consider their requests and give it some discussion in an open meeting of council

These changes were recommended by the state highway department, the Marion Auto club and other civic minded persons who are interested in traffic conditions Your consideration of these changes will be greatly appreciated The letter was signed by M E Baldwin secretary of the club

Council voted to sell a $3 6 issue of bonds used to purchase two typewriters and two filing cases for the municipal court early last year be sold at private sale The ordinance states the bonds can be sold privately because they will mature in two years The bonds are to be sold at not less than par plus accrued interest to the highest bidder City Solicitor Ralph E Carhart said sale of the bonds privately was recommended because it would save the city the cost of advertising for bids at a public sale

17 FINED TODAY IN TRAFFIC COURT

Seventeen persons were assessed fines in traffic court this morning by Municipal Judge William R Martin Seven of those cited to appear either forfeited bond or entered pleas of guilty and paid their fines Ten persons cited for alleged violations were not present

Those who did not appear were assessed fines of $2 and costs and municipal court officials said orders would be issued to the police department to bring them in The majority of the fines were for improper parking violations

Annual Poppy Day Observance To Be Saturday

Legion Auxiliary Will Sell Flowers To Help Carry on Welfare Work

Poppy day will be observed in Marion Saturday when memorial poppies to be worn in honor of the World war dead will be distributed throughout the city by the Women's auxiliary to Bird Murphy post No 16 of the American Legion In return for the flowers the sponsors are asking a voluntary contribution to be used in carrying on their welfare work in the families of less fortunate veterans in Marion

We hope to sell every one of the 3 500 flowers before nightfall Mrs William Arndt chairman of this year's sale stated today In former years the workers will be on the street at 7 a m working in teams headed by members of the auxiliary

Mayor Frederick C Smith this morning issued a poppy day proclamation urging the city co operate in the purchase of poppies for a worthwhile cause

The poppies will be the women made by residents of the veterans hospital at Sawtelle These men Mrs Arndt says receive no compensation other than their hospitalization The materials are supplied by the auxiliary and the men are paid for each completed flower The number each veteran is allowed to make per day is restricted so that the work may be spread among as many needy men as possible and to prevent overtaxing the workers strength

Wearing the poppy is a personal tribute to the men who gave their lives in the country's service Mrs Arndt said in discussing her plans By wearing a poppy on this day all can show that they still remember and honor the sacrifices made for America during the World war the poppy is the flower which bloomed on the battle fields where the veterans fell and on poppy day it blooms again over the patriotic hearts where they are remembered she said

The following teams will work in two-hour shifts beginning at 7 a m

Bartholomew To End Service As Silk Mills Head

Will Retire June 1 After 21 Years as Superintendent of Marion Plant

W F Bartholomew for 21 years superintendent of the Marion plant of the Susquehanna Silk Mills today announced he will retire from the company's service at the end of this month

He has been associated with the Susquehanna company for 33 years and is one of the three men who have headed the Marion plant since it was established in 1902

With no other plans for the immediate future other than to take a much needed rest for at least a year Mr Bartholomew said he and Mrs Bartholomew will return to Sunbury Pa about the first of July

Sunbury is their former home and it was there that Mr Bartholomew first became associated with the Susquehanna company as a department head in the district offices connected with the home mill

A successor to the retiring superintendent will not be named until plans are ready for reopening the plant which is now closed Mr Bartholomew said he had not been advised by the general offices in New York City as to the probable date for reopening In the meantime the regular office force will take care of what work is necessary

The Marion mill is one of six operated by Susquehanna and the only one west of the Allegheny mountains the others being in Pennsylvania and Georgia The plant was established here in 1902 and the first superintendent was A Klerz who served until 1910 when he was succeeded by T T Tierney Mr Bartholomew replaced Mr Tierney in September of 1917 Immediately before coming here Mr Bartholomew was superintendent of one of the company's plants at Milton Pa.

Originally opened as a weaving plant a spinning department was added about a year ago At full capacity the plant now employs about 500 persons

Mr and Mrs Bartholomew have their residence at 463 Mary street on the silk mill property. They are the parents of two sons, C E Bartholomew who is in charge of the electrical work at the plant here and Dr H D Bartholomew of New York City.

STOP-GAP AID BILL APPROVED

House Finance Committee Recommends Measure 14-0 Despite Davey Opposition

WILL REPORT NEXT WEEK

Yoder Says Measure Will Be Indorsed by Senate If It Reaches There

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS O May 22 — The house finance committee recommended 14 to 0 today a passage of stop gap legislation to meet Ohio's pressing relief needs pending study of a long term proposal by Gov Martin L Davey

The committee will report its recommendation next week If the house approves the stop gap plan it then will go to the senate where Democratic Leader Paul P Yoder has indicated it will be introduced

Under the stop gap plan the time for counties to make repayments to a $10 000 000 county fund would be extended from May 15 to July 15

Gov Davey had urged speedy passage of his $11 000 000 long term program but it met opposition from numerous county relief officials

Relief Bill Inadequate

The officials from Cuyahoga Lucas Allen Ashtabula and Muskingum counties asserted that the administration proposal would be inadequate for their needs They said that the five per cent maximum allowance for administration of the proposal would meet but half their costs and added that their counties could not put up half the relief funds as the measure proposes

They gave the stop gap proposal which would extend the deadline for counties to repay funds borrowed from the $3 000 000 county relief fund from May 15 to July 15 only tentative back

PASTOR'S SON FOUND DEAD IN FRATERNITY

Police Chief Says It's Suicide, but Coroner Decides To Hold Inquest.

By The Associated Press

GENEVA N Y May 22—Phillip B Cooke 22 year old Hobart college senior and son of Rev Allan W Cooke of Springfield, was found fatally wounded in his fraternity house room early today by fellow members who heard the shot that fired a 22 caliber rifle bullet into his head

Chief of Police R W Morris said it was a "clear case of suicide" Coroner Frank H Snyder said an inquest would be held this afternoon

Students rooming in the Sigma Phi fraternity house told police they were aroused about 1 a m by a shot and the sound of a fall, they found Cooke lying on the floor with a rifle beside him

He was taken to Geneva general hospital where an x-ray was taken He died two hours later

Clifford Orr, publicity director of the college, said after a conference with President Murray Bartlett that the reason for Cooke's apparent suicide was a mystery

Fellow students said Cooke had been moody lately and had threatened suicide

His father is an Episcopal minister.

Cooke was to have been graduated next Monday He was a cheer leader, member of the Glee club and Skull and Dagger society.

BYRNS BRANDS ACT CONTEMPT

Investigating Committee May Seek To Refer Case to U S Attorney's Office

VIEW TOWARD INDICTMENT

Advocate of Pension Plan Similar to Doctor's Scheduled To Appear Next

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON May 22 The possibility of a court trial of Dr F J Townsend for his defiance of a house investigating committee was projected today by Speaker Byrns

Terming the pension leaders walk out on the committee a plain case of contempt the speaker told reporters

I expect that is useful what ever action is recommended by the committee

Thus Legal Steps

After a conference with the group headed by Rep Bolt Democrat of Missouri Byrns said he believed that instead of arresting and bringing Townsend before the bar of the house the committee possibly would offer a resolution referring the case to the United States attorney's office

This step he said would be with a view to having an indictment brought against the physician in the District of Columbia courts charging Townsend with contempt of the house

Byrns said he did not expect the committee to bring the matter before the house until some time next week

The committee itself took no immediate steps

It filed into the hearing room and faced an expectant and curious crowd

Then in an anticlimax the committee immediately adjourned until this afternoon when Bolt announced Dr J A Pope advocate of a pension plan similar to that proposed by Dr Townsend would appear

Rather Go To Jail

As Speaker Byrns spoke Townsend in Baltimore said he had rather go to jail' than submit to further congressional investigation of his plan to pay $200 a month to everyone past 60

Amid an uproar, the elderly retired doctor halted the hearing yesterday protested against this committee's jurisdiction in Washington and established headquarters in a Baltimore hotel

Dr Townsend was not the only one of his organization to leave the capital In the small hours of the morning, every member of the personnel staff occupying 15 rooms in an office building, here departed for Chicago where new national headquarters will be established

Even the furniture was loaded in vans bound for the same destination

Claims They're Unfair

Charging the committee with an unfair and unfriendly attitude and with asking him vicious questions to besmirch his character, Townsend said he would return only if arrested

Joining him in this battle against the committee was Gerald K. Smith a leader in the late Huey P Long's share the wealth movement

He and Townsend issued a joint statement through Rep Main, Republican of Michigan in which they protested against the committee's dictatorship and said

The assassination of Huey Long and the persecution of Dr Townsend calls for action

Shout 'Stop Him'

As Smith and Dr Townsend walked out of the committee hearing arm in arm committee members shouted stop him and close the door But the doctor was gone with the applause and cheers of groups of Townsend sympathizers echoing after him

Rep Sweeney Democrat of New York said Townsend's house of cards is about to collapse on him

When Smith returned to Washington from Baltimore last night he said he and Dr Townsend planned some real big meetings' and indicated they probably would confer with Fr Coughlin Detroit radio priest.

No Comment on Union

Smith said it was too early to comment on a possible fusion of his and Townsend's forces with Fr Coughlin's Union of Social Justice

But it is inevitable that this big mass movement must crystallize' said Smith 'The real political movements are among the people, not in the political parties'

Appearing more than an hour after he was supposed to resume the witness stand at the afternoon session Townsend promptly complained of an 'unfair and unfriendly attitude on the part of the committee

To Testify No More

Bluntly he asserted he would testify no more 'unless under arrest'

Dr Townsend was not called to the witness stand until about 4 o'clock His voice shaking, he asked and was denied permission to read a prepared statement to the committee

Still standing the elderly lean,

BRITISH INDUSTRY PLANS QUICK WAR MOBILIZATION

Government Acts After Debate Reveals Difficulty in Holding Mediterranean in Case of Conflict

By The Associated Press

LONDON May 22—Great Britain stepped up its plans for mobilization of the nations industries in the event of war today after a house of commons debate emphasized the difficulty of holding the Mediterranean in case of conflict with Italy

A vast program for facilitating munitions production speeding up supply of airplanes, protecting the life-line of the empire and providing food supplies for the civil population in any future war time began to take shape

Two major situations apparently were involved in the preparations

1. The Italo-Ethiopian in which Viscount Cranborne, parliamentary under secretary for foreign affairs, told the house of commons yesterday the British government 'is taking and will take most energetic steps" to clear up the whereabouts of L J Bonner Red Cross worker reported arrested at Diredawa.

2 The Palestine Egypt affairs in which Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin told commons Britain would not tolerate foreign interference

Italy's ambassador to Britain Dino Grandi conferred late yesterday with Sir Robert G Vansittart, permanent under secretary for foreign affairs in what authoritative sources said was a general discussion of the Ethiopian situation

The press inclined to connect the conference with unofficial Italian suggestions that Britain should withdraw the guard from its Addis Ababa legation, rather than at-

WIN SECOND ROUND GAMES; PROSPECT, MARKET TEAMS WIN

Creasap Gets a Triple, Two Doubles and a Single; Snider Fans Six.

Scores Last Night

M. S. S. 11, Marion Merchants 2.
Lawrence Markets 8, Excavator 5.
Huber 5, Keytown Camp 1.
Prospect 3, Fairfield 2.

The Standings

Team	W.	L.	Per.
M. S. S.	2	0	1.000
Huber	2	0	1.000
Marion Merchants	1	1	.500
Keytown Camp	1	1	.500
Lawrence Markets	1	1	.500
Prospect	1	1	.500
Fairfield	0	2	.000
Excavator	0	2	.000

Second round conflicts of Commercial league softball teams played last night left only two teams undefeated. The Marion Steam Shovel Co.'s entry in the loop and the Huber aggregation each annexed their second victories to share the top spot in the standings. The M. S. S. team defeated the Marion Merchants, 11-2, and the Huber squad scored a 5 to 1 win over the Keytown Campers. The Lawrence Farm Markets added their first victory at the expense of the Excavator team by an 8 to 5 count, and Prospect did likewise by edging the Fairfield nine, 3-2.

Creasap, M. S. S. catcher, poled out a triple, two doubles and a single, in four trips to the plate, to aid his team in its 11 to 2 defeat of the Marion Merchants. Snider went the entire route as moundsman for the winning team, allowing his opponents four hits, registering six strike-outs and giving three walks.

Huber's 5 to 1 triumph over the Keytown Campers was the result of brilliant pitching of the victors' mound ace, Schwaderer. The hurler, who earlier this season shared in pitching a no-hit game, was nicked for a single in the second inning by Weiss, the opposing pitcher. Schwaderer fanned three batters and issued one pass. M. Gibson, Huber centerfielder, proved most effective in batting, by getting two hits in three times at bat.

The Lawrence Markets collected eight runs on nine hits to win over the Excavator team, 8-5. Lowry, pitching for the victorious squad, allowed four hits, struck out seven batsmen and gave three walks. Not confining his activity to mound duty, Lowry hit safely in two of four times he stepped up to the plate.

Prospect's representative in the loop scored its initial victory of the season by edging out the Fairfield aggregation, 3 to 2. Bumgartner starred in batting for Prospect, hitting safely in two of three attempts. Bumgartner along with McNeal and Farrington, who were credited with hits, shared in scoring Prospect's three runs. Fairfield's pitcher, Gamble, paced his team in batting by connecting on two of three attempts.

The scores by innings follow:

Prospect	001	000	2	4	2
Fairfield	100	010	0	2	5

McNeal and Roberts; Gamble and Corbin.

Keytown Camp	000	100	0	1	1

RED SOX MOUND MENACE

A.L. TEAMS
THE PITCHING of GROVE AND FERRELL--
I'LL CARRY 'M TO THE TOP--
TIME DEANS SHOULD HAVE 2 GREAT PITCHERS COULD WIN THE FLAG IN 1936--
LEAVE IT TO US--
CAN HE HIT IT?
GROVE AND FERRELL MAY WIN THE PENNANT FOR BOSTON!
BURNLEY.

MULTI-MILLIONAIRE Yawkey's expensive Boston Red Sox are threatening to prove that pennants can be bought this season, if you can spare a mere million bucks to buy playing talent.

Cramer, Foxx, Rick Ferrell and several others of Beantown's high-priced stars are doing very well indeed. Joe Cronin, who cost more dough than any other player in history, seems to be making good as a manager even if he hasn't justified his fabulous price tag during his sporadic appearances on the field of action.

However, the two guys that are really responsible for the rise of the Red Sox are those master moundsmen, Robert Moses "Lefty" Grove and Wesley Ferrell.

Grove, acquired from Philadelphia in return for approximately 100 grand in coin of the realm, was no bargain in his first year at Boston. That was in '34, and Lefty developed a kink in his lean left arm that made him practically useless all season. Last year he came back in great style, leading the league in earned run effectiveness.

However, many skeptics insisted that it was merely a flash before his inevitable final fadeout. These cynical gents are being made to swallow their words at this writing, for the left-handed one has never before showed such astonishing mastery on the hill as in his early games of 1936.

Ferrell, too, is tossing 'em in with all his old aplomb, not to say verve, and it is beginning to look as if these two mound mechanics will have a lot to say in deciding the 1936 flag race. The Dean brothers showed two years ago how much a pair of great pitchers can mean to a team, and with Grove and Ferrell apparently good for at least fifty wins, the Red Sox will be hard to beat.

OWENS MAKES NEW BID FOR FAME IN BIG TEN CONTESTS

"Ebony Antelope" Center of Attraction as Preliminaries of Saturday Meet Start.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., May 22—Jesse Owens hummed "Oh, Them Golden Slippers" today as he pulled on his spiked shoes for the preliminaries in the Western conference track meet.

A year ago, after Jesse set three world records and tied another at Ann Arbor, his shoes were gilded and placed in Ohio State's hall of fame.

The dusky Buckeye captain, with the Big Ten classic again serving as the back drop, hoped for another of his record-shattering acts in the preliminaries and Saturday's finals. He wants another pair of his size 7-E golden slippers in that trophy room.

Although 253 other athletes from the Big Ten schools were on hand for the thirty-sixth annual track and field fixture, they were regarded as only the supporting cast in the "Ebony Antelope's" starring vehicle.

"Can Owens do it again?" was the No. 1 question of the 25,000 fans expected to witness the meet. "Who will win the meet?" was a poor second on the list of queries which the annual classic must answer.

Preliminaries in 10 of the 15 events were scheduled to start at 3 p. m. Only the entrants in the pole vault, high jump, mile and two-mile runs and the relay were exempt from the qualifying tests. Finals in all 15 events will be run off Saturday afternoon.

L. W. St. John, Ohio State athletic director, took no chances on records being tossed out because of wind aiding the runners, unless the breeze actually helps them. He named Dr. Roderick Peattie of the department of geography as anemometerist of the meet. The doctor will operate a machine registering the velocity of the wind during the running of each race.

Trautman Gets Suggestion To Shorten Games

BY FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

George M. Trautman, former Syracuse resident and now proxy of the American Association, — has been bothered lately because the league games have been running beyond the two-hour mark.

He sought suggestions from Columbus sports writers on how the contests might be cut down in length—but toward the whole batch of answers aside after reading the first.

The first suggestion was:

"Allow only two outs each inning instead of three. That will cut off a third of the time consumed."

If Friday or Saturday are vacation days for you and you get a "kick" out of watching the athletes go round and round—the state is filled with plenty of week-end attractions.

Look at the schedule for the two days:

Baseball: Detroit at Cleveland; Toledo at Columbus.

Track: Big Ten championships at Columbus, Buckeye championships at Oxford.

Golf: Ohio Intercollegiate and Ohio Conference championships at Granville.

Tennis: Ohio Intercollegiate championships at Gambier.

Miss Eva Shaub, Massillon High school senior ... she's the petite little blonde who created such a furore in cycling circles last year ... had a new distinction today.

She's the first co-ed ever to win a varsity "M" at Massillon High. She was given the athletic prowess emblem by Leland P. Kemp, principal at special recognition day exercises.

It was in recognition of her Stark county and Akron district golf championships and her fine showing in two national tourneys and the women's western event.

And while Miss Shaub was being shown her signal honor Coach Paul Brown named August Memmelstat, member of Massillon's unbeaten football team, as the school's outstanding athlete.

Richman Brothers Clothes

A MAN with cash in his pocket can buy wherever he likes. He is welcome wherever he goes, and when he chooses a suit of clothes, you can be sure it's because he prefers the quality, the style, the fit and the value . . . not because he is getting credit accommodation.

Richman Brothers customers are cash customers. They have the world to pick from and can well afford to be "choosy." In selecting Richman Brothers Clothes, they pay our garments the highest possible compliment . . . a tribute that means more than anything we or anyone else could tell you.

In fact, the cash buying of our customers is another way of saying, "Gentlemen, we know your materials are the finest all-wool fabrics. Your workmanship is honest and enduring. Your styles are smart and your fit leaves nothing to be desired. Our cash proves that we mean what we say."

But, you needn't go by what we or our customers say. Come down to our store, and let our clothes convince you. You can have your choice of any suit, topcoat, tuxedo or full dress tails . . . all direct from our own tailor shops . . . all $22.50.

CONCERT GROUP ELECTS BERRY

Association Holds Annual Business Meeting and Social at Y. M. C. A.

Chester M. Berry was named president of the Marion Concert association at a combined business and social meeting held by the members last night in the association rooms at the Y. M. C. A. The occasion was the annual family party held by the organization.

Chosen with Mr. Berry were Mrs. Clara Campbell, vice president, John Lacey, secretary and Mrs Hamer Mitchell, treasurer.

William Dowler Sr. was in charge of an old-fashioned singing school and in a spelling bee the honors went to Miss Ida Mae Abe. L. G. Jones directed the singing of several numbers by a male quartet and presided for the group singing which closed the program hour. Earl Ruhlman, president, was in charge of the business session.

Refreshments were served with Mrs. Eugene H. Moore, chairman for the party, Mrs. W. E. Orcutt, Mrs. Forest Hill, Mrs. L. G. Jones and Mrs. Chester B. Berry as acting hostesses.

KIWANIANS HEAR CITY PATHOLOGIST

Dr. LoCricchio Tells of Experience in Brazil.

An interesting account of his experiences while serving with the Ford Motor Co. in the interior of Brazil several years ago was given by Dr. John LoCricchio, Marion pathologist and city health commissioner, in a talk to approximately 60 members of the Kiwanis club at a luncheon meeting yesterday at Hotel Marion.

Dr. LoCricchio, who was engaged in health work on a Ford rubber experimental plantation, illustrated a part of his talk with picture slides of scenes on and around the plantation.

The plantation, Dr. LoCricchio said, covers four million acres of which 30,000 acres are under cultivation. The speaker told of health conditions in the interior of Brazil and painted a picture of native life on the rivers of South America and in the jungles. He outlined some of the means taken to protect the health of white men and natives on the plantation. Dr. LoCricchio described methods of treating various diseases peculiar to the climate and country.

CITY BRIEFS

Roundtable Discussion—A roundtable discussion of medical problems made up the program hour at a meeting of the Pan-American Medical society yesterday at Hotel Harding.

Improving—David Fritz who has been ill with pneumonia in the City hospital, was removed to his home on Delaware avenue this afternoon. His condition is improving.

Father Ills—Word has been received by the William Kohlberger family of 524 North Main street, of the death of the father of Mrs. A. Pearson of Findlay, formerly of Marion, which occurred Saturday at his home in Oklahoma. The Pearson family moved to Findlay last December. Mrs. Pearson was called to Oklahoma by the illness of her father.

To Confer Degree—Members of Marion Commandery No. 36, Knights Templar, will confer the Order of Malta at a meeting in Bellefontaine tonight. The meeting will be preceded by a dinner at 6:30 o'clock. Plans for attending the meeting were completed last night, and work in the Order of Red Cross was conferred.

Ill at Home—Roy Clark is reported to be ill with pneumonia at his home at 191 Windsor street.

Picnic at School—Mothers and pupils of the Forest Lawn school gathered for the annual school picnic yesterday after school. A basket supper was served on the school lawn.

Class Holds Supper—Members of the Forest Lawn Presbyterian church choir and their families held a potluck supper last night at the community house. Approximately 40 were present, including two guests, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Church, who occasionally sing with the choir. After supper a rehearsal was conducted by the director, Mrs. C. L. Midlam.

Truck Hits Pump—A gasoline pump located near the curb in front of Seckel's grocery at 215 North Main street, was demolished early today when it was hit by a truck. Details of the accident were not known but persons living nearby reported they heard the crash at about 5:30 a. m.

Fire in Kitchen—Firemen from company No. 1 were called to the residence of Mrs. Lulu Merchant of 660 Senate street, when food on a kitchen stove was ignited. The call was made today at 11:10 a. m. Only smoke damage was reported.

REPORTS GIVEN ON RIVER CONDITIONS

ORDER OF DRUIDS INSTALLS OFFICERS

Philip Ebert Takes Post as Noble Arch of Marion Grove.

Philip Ebert was installed as noble arch of Marion Grove No. 27, United Ancient Order of Druids, at a meeting last night. Jacob Hoffman, district deputy, conducted the installation, in which the following took office with Mr. Ebert:

Otto Hittenrauch, vice arch; George Dutt, conductor; Frank Berringer, inside guard; John Kenwecker, outside guard; J. C. Hoffman, secretary; C. A. Bashr, treasurer; H. L. Wade, right hand bard to noble arch; Charles Schneemilch, left hand bard to noble arch; Thomas Brennan, right hand bard to vice arch; Fred Bender, left hand bard to vice arch.

Mr. Bashr, Mr. Schneemilch and Mr. Berringer were appointed a memorial committee and James Cusic was named delegate to a state convention at Dayton in June.

A smoker, cards and lunch followed the installation. A meeting will be held in one week.

COUNCIL ACTS TO CUT FIRE, POLICE FORCES

tains and two are desk sergeants was in question.

Probable Furlough List

Firemen who will be laid off unless there are unexpected developments in the conference of officials with the civil service commission today are Theodore E. Brownlee, John F. Cochert, D. J. Finley, Charles E. Erow, Harold W. Monnette, Paul Sifritt, Floyd Lattimore, James Fisher, Charles McDonough, James Riddell and Burnette Bindley. They are the youngest men in the department in point of service, and will be furloughed, if the layoff is made purely on a seniority basis, officials said.

If nothing but seniority in the department enters into the furlough of policemen, those who would be laid off are Louis Cunningham, Homer Osmun, Clyde Hardin, Louis Kirts, Ora DeWees, J. S. Underhill, E. C. Mackan, Henry Tong and Fred Norton. However, DeWees and Mackan have ranks of captain, Hardin and Cunningham are desk sergeants. Whether the difference in ranks would make changes in the order in which the men are laid off was to be placed before the state civil service commission for a decision.

Council members informally expressed the opinion last night that men furloughed will retain their civil service seniority rights in the departments for a two-year period and can be called back to their jobs without taking an examination any time within that period.

Other Changes Made

Council last night also adopted a new appropriation ordinance for the year cutting down funds in several departments and revising the salary schedules for officials and employes. The new program of salary payments is to leave the January payments at a basis of 90 per cent of full pay, restore payments for February, March, April and May to a 70 per cent basis instead of the previous 55 per cent level, and to pay all officials and employes on an 85 per cent basis for the remainder of the year, beginning June 1.

The new appropriations cut the City hospital's previous allowance for the year $2,365, eliminate $3,000 from the sewer flushing account, cut $200 from the incidentals account of the sewage treatment works and use up a $5,000 reserve account that had been laid aside for emergencies.

Opposed by Hart

The revised appropriations were adopted by seven to one vote, Councilman Hart opposing it. He said he objected to it because it did not provide for full salaries of elective officials as required by law.

Councilmen who voted in favor of the layoff of firemen and policemen are Welcome P. Cass Jr., W. M. Fabian, Basil Williams, Robert H. Stief, Harry Cahill and Hayes Rogers. Councilmen Shuster and Hart voted against it. Councilman D. R. Biggert was absent. After the meeting, Councilman Hart said he voted against the layoffs because he felt refunding bonds should have been issued early this year. He said he felt Mayor Smith had not been willing enough to consider refunding bonds at that time, and pointed out it is now too late to refund those falling due in 1936. Councilman Shuster said he was opposed to the layoff of firemen and policemen even though he knew of no way to pay their salaries.

The police and firemen furlough ordinances are brief, simply fixing the size of the police department at one chief and seven patrolmen and the fire department at one chief, six captains and 14 firemen. Both ordinances repeal any previous ordinances that conflict with them, and contain an emergency clause making them immediately effective.

One Question Asked

The only discussion of the furlough legislation prior to its adoption was the question of Councilman Basil Williams who asked if any of the city's three fire stations would be closed. Councilman Stief answered it is planned to keep all three departments open, maintaining two shifts of two men each at the West Side and Mark Street stations, leaving a chief and two shifts of six men each at the Central station.

Several firemen and at least one policeman were in the gallery last night when the legislation was read and adopted, but none of them made any comments.

Following adoption of the legislation, Gayle Owens of Sheridan road asked Mayor Smith how long the furloughs would be in effect. The mayor answered they probably would continue "until we get more money." Owens then asked why the city "picked" on firemen and policemen because it is short of funds. The mayor asserted officials had not picked on the two departments and said the men were laid off only after all other possible reductions in expenses had been made.

Mayor's Message

Mayor Smith's message to council following adoption of the legislation follows:

"The decisive defeat of the 3.2-mill levy by the voters of Marion clearly and unmistakably registered an earnest protest against the spending of any more money for municipal operating purposes by this administration than is now available.

"Certainly there can be no doubt that their action on this proposal was a clear and definite mandate to this administration to live within its income. I believe it can be taken as a mandate that we shall refrain from raising any more money for city operating purposes, not only by direct taxation upon real estate, but by any other means. I think this clearly puts the borrowing of money by refunding bonds out, as well as an occupational tax or any other tax.

"We do not believe the defeat of the levy indicates that our citizens are not interested in maintaining the necessary functions of our city government, for that they are unwilling to support the present administration in its efforts to restore the city's credit. We believe the defeat of the levy was a protest against any increase in taxes. The burden has become over-heavy. When people are already paying between 30 and 40 per cent of their income for government costs it is not surprising that they will vote against any increase, regardless of its merit. The fact that the present city administration has made drastic reductions and cut expenses to the bone can not overbalance the extravagance and waste of other government bodies or of past administrations.

"The present shortage of funds for operating our municipal functions is not caused by insufficient taxes. It is caused by the unfair and inequitable distribution of taxes among the several tax spending bodies, and by wasteful and unnecessary spending of other government bodies.

"In view of the credit situation of the city we can not see how any other course of action than the one we have taken this evening is possible. When merchants refused to sell us goods because they mistrust our credit, something must be done.

"Everything considered, we believe we have done the most feasible and honest thing that is possible to meet the present situation. We feel sure that every official having had to do with the solution of this problem has done his very best. We believe he has done everything that is possible to carry out the mandate of the people given us by the overwhelming rejection of the proposed levy."

SHORT AND CRANE HIGH IN TOURNEY

Possible score was 66 and average score 33 in last night's duplicate contract bridge tourney at the Masonic temple. Thirty-three boards were played, and the individual movement used. J. E. Short scored 39, Alwyn H. Crane 38, F. O. Lindsey 37½, F. M. Sage 36½, Charles Lindsey 34½, and Paul A. Mickley 33.

Other players were J. H. Harmon, G. H. Marting, A. E. Mautz, W. G. Plehn, P. H. Rea and C. E. Williams.

Following the supper the group engaged in games and other entertainment. The employes were headed by P. K. Burns, store manager.

PROGRAM PRESENTED AT LEGION DUGOUT

Mother's Day Observed at Meeting of Daughters of Union Veterans.

A Mother's day program was presented at a meeting of Harriet Belcher Stowe tent No. 15, Daughters of Union Veterans, last night at the Legion Dugout.

A reading, "Mother's Day," was given by Mrs. Dorothy Williams, and Mrs. Ida Swartz gave a reading "Who Loved Best." Other numbers were "A Boy and His Mother," Mrs. Martha Connell, "The Story Mother Tells," Eileen Naranco, "A Mother's Prayer," Mrs. Pearl Schwartz, "A Mother's Poem," Mrs. Carrie Tuttle, and "Mother o' Mine," Mrs. Ruth Parshall.

Plans were made to join other patriotic organizations and Cooper Post for the annual Memorial Sunday services at Epworth M. E. church. The members will assemble in uniform at the courthouse at 10 a. m. Arrangements also were discussed for attending the annual state convention to be held at Cleveland the week of June 1. A letter was read from Mrs. Charles Davidson of Mansfield, a former member, who suffered a cerebral hemorrhage several months ago. She is improving rapidly, the letter stated.

MOTHER, DAUGHTER BANQUET IS HELD

Covers were laid for 56 at the mother-daughter banquet given last night at 6:30 at the First Church of the Brethren. The tables and room were decorated in pink and white. Mrs. Orva Harper presided as toastmistress.

"The Mother and Daughter Trail" theme was carried out in a program of pantomimes, songs and readings. Committees in charge of the banquet were Mrs. Lowell Messenger nad Miss Donna Cook, decorations; Mrs. Raymond Young, Mrs. Thomas Berry and Mrs. Forest Ballinger, menu; Mrs. Orva Harper, Mrs. Lester Roof and Miss Velma Cook, program.

ROGERS MEMORIAL OBSERVANCE OPENS

Marion Asked To Cooperate in Tribute to Cowboy Humorist.

Marion and the nation today begin a week-long tribute to the late Will Rogers on the occasion of the dedication of the Will Rogers Memorial hospital at Saranac Lake, N. Y.

The Palace and Ohio theaters will join with amusement houses throughout the country in presenting special feature attractions and a Rogers "Memorial week" short subject. Lobby displays call attention to the tribute to the beloved humorist and philosopher.

The hospital at Saranac Lake in the Adirondacks is a million-dollar institution for the care and treatment of ill and needy tubercular stage, screen and radio performers.

Marion residents are urged by Fred W. Warner, chairman of the Marion county Will Rogers memorial committee, to cooperate with the theaters in the tribute to the late actor.

The feature attraction at the Ohio theater four days starting Saturday will be a return engagement of Will Rogers' picture, "A Connecticut Yankee." A new release starring Gary Cooper, "Mr. Deeds Goes to Town," will be on the Palace screen four days beginning Sunday. Both theaters will include on their program a special short subject that is a eulogy to Will Rogers by Irvin Cobb, May Robson, Shirley Temple, Lowell Thomas and Bing Crosby.

CO-WORKERS MEET AT GORENFLO HOME

Mrs. Clarence Gorenflo was hostess to the Co-Workers class of the Greenwood Evangelical Sunday school Thursday night at her home on East Mark street. Mrs. Leonard Brady conducted the devotionals and prayer was offered by Mrs. Lois Long, Mrs. Margaret Whiteneck, Mrs. E. O. Whaley, Mrs. C. A. Thomas and Mrs. Brady. Guests were Mrs. Ben Crabtree, Mrs. Frank Riley, Mrs. Minnie Allman, Mrs. Newton Messenger and Mrs. Dorothy Irvin. A program included music by a string trio composed of Franklin Gorenflo, Dale Guyton and Victor Martin, a vocal duet by Mrs. Whiteneck and Mrs. Sylvia Setter, piano solo by Mary Katherine Gorenflo, Hawaiian guitar number by Helen Jane Townsend and a musical reading by Mrs. Elizabeth Cook accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Irvin. The hostess served refreshments assisted by Mrs. Clarence Dawson. A meeting June 18 will be with Mrs. [illegible] Wooley of North Greenwood street.

NAMES ARE DRAWN FOR SUNSHINE CLUB

Names were drawn for the sunshine club at a meeting of the Onward Bible class of Oakland Evangelical Sunday school Tuesday night, at the home of Mrs. William Sandbar on Bellefontaine avenue. Mrs. William Feaver was in charge of a social hour and refreshments were served.

Bellefontaine's Fast Team Not So Fast After All

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., May 22—Coach A. H. Dodds...er at Bellefontaine High school...is a disillusioned man...and mournful.

Moreover...he has a grudge against the WPA.

For weeks...since his track men were able to work outdoors on the new cinder runway constructed with federal funds...by the WPA...Coach Dodds has marveled at the talent he had on hand.

High school records meant nothing to his squad of athletes...his boys eclipsed all the marks in the book.

Then Coach Dodds found out that the track...supposed to be 396 yards around...was only 365 yards.

CAR RUNS INTO RESTAURANT

MARYSVILLE, May 22—A new automobile, purchased in Lima Wednesday night and driven by a young man of about 18 years of age, went over the curb in front of the Home restaurant in East Fifth street, Thursday morning and crashed into the restaurant doorway and the doorway entrance of an apartment upstairs. The crash broke the restaurant door in and shattered glass from several windows in the front of the building. The radiator of the automobile was badly mashed, the steering wheel was broken and the car hood was damaged. The driver whose name was not learned, was slightly injured.

PARENTS OF LYNCHED NEGRO GIVEN $2,500

Awarded Money from Sheriff Whose Deputies Are Accused of Delivering Victim to Mob

By United Press

NEW ORLEANS Ma 23—The parents of a sixteen year old Negro boy lynched near Abadieville in 1922 were awarded $2,500 damages from Sheriff Leon H. Provost of Assumption Parish today by a jury of white men in federal court.

It probably was the first time in the history of the south that Negroes won personal damages for a lynching.

Prosecution witnesses said two deputies delivered the boy to the mob and that one deputy abetted the lynchers. The boy, Fred Moore, was suspected of murdering Annie Mae Lastrapes who was found in a cane field with her throat cut. Later the girl's stepfather was said to have confessed the murder.

Johnston Armstrong attorney for the negro who sued for $10,000.

R. B. Eleazer educational secretary of the Commission on Interracial Cooperation of Atlanta said that his records dating back to 1882 showed it was the first case in which a Negro had collected personal damages in a lynching.

Norman Thibodaux Negro youth told how he was taken to witness the lynching by Deputy Sheriff Fernand Richard and nearly shared the same fate because some members of the mob believed he might have had a part in the killing.

The sheriff was named in the suit on the grounds that he was negligent in failing to protect Moore.

All these things may have happened in Ohio's WPA administration. If they have, if virtuous citizens have been horrified by actual evidence of such misdemeanors something should be done. Dr. Carl Watson, administrator of WPA in Ohio, tells what to do.

Charging that President Roosevelt had turned WPA over to the politicians, an editor in southern Ohio intimated strongly that all the previously mentioned abuses were rampant in this state. Dr. Watson made the only reasonable reply. Declaring his intention to prevent WPA in Ohio from being plagued with such abuses, he urges the editor to send substantiating evidence to his office and assures him that action will be taken. "May I suggest," the doctor concludes, "that it is neither helpful nor wise...to publish such charges unless you do have specific evidence to back them up."

The whole relief question, unfortunately, has irritated Americans more than it has moved them to think and act. Here Dr. Watson is offering a way out to honest critics. It may be too much to hope that any such large scale federal program can be run without the wastes due to dishonesty and inefficiency, but Dr. Watson appears to be willing to do his part. It is difficult to see what more he could do to help try to control an agency so vast as to be almost beyond control

What Next?

As was expected, Sen. Borah failed to command anywhere near a majority of the Republican primary votes in New Jersey, where his presidential candidacy was opposed squarely to that of Gov. Landon. With the exception of the preferential primary in Florida June 2, there will be no further opportunity before the national convention for expressions of voters' opinion on the Republican candidate for president.

Sen. Borah has been defeated decisively as a contender for the nomination in the primaries. He no longer is conceded even an outside chance to represent the Republican party. Yet, he continues to be an important influence because of his personal following, his prestige as a senator and his ability as an orator. He can be useful to his party if he chooses to cooperate with it.

It remains to be seen whether or not Sen. Borah, never a cooperative individual, will be able to rationalize his present position for that purpose in 1936. There has been some questionable talk of a "bolt" from the party. Obviously, there is no possibility of the senator going over to the opposition, since, as Mark Sullivan wrote recently, "The difference between Borah and while is not greater than the difference between Mr. Borah and the fundamental philosophy of the new deal."

It is entirely possible, however, that Sen. Borah might choose to "bolt" into retirement and political obscurity. Indeed, unless he can lay aside the domineering and threatening attitude which he has assumed recently, it may turn out that his retirement will be involuntary. His chief menace as a politician, particularly since his poor showing in New Jersey, is to his own reputation as a statesman.

Coincidence.

Coincidence has made Rexford C. Tugwell a man with a cross to bear.

The senate, restless over Prof. Tugwell's activities, has requested a full report of his rural resettlement expenditures. It is said that RRA records are in a mess and that Prof. Tugwell, a better theorist than administrator, is going to have trouble making sense of them.

Furthermore, the professor's prestige inside the administration is reported to be slipping. President Roosevelt, his sponsor, can't afford to go to bat for him for political reasons. Congressional feeling is too strong. Consequently, Prof. Tugwell isn't going to have much to do, at least until the campaign is over.

The heaviest blow fell Monday, when the District of Columbia court of appeals handed down a finding of unconstitutionality against RRA. The court held that allocation of relief funds to Prof. Tugwell's agency was an improper delegation by congress of legislative power and that it invaded the rights of the states.

In view of what seems to be the situation inside RRA, which seems to be the most confused of all new deal agencies, the District of Columbia court's decision is bound to carry a lot of weight with public opinion. Here, plainly, is one case where delegated power in the hands of an administrator responsible only to a President who couldn't possibly have supervised the far flung activities of a spending agency wasn't exercised in a way to command support, even on an experimental basis. Congress, which delegated the power, anticipated the court's decision by its own restlessness and dissatisfaction.

Farley Eyes Golden Plum At Albany

Democratic Chieftain Sees Chance To Realize Ambition of Years in Landing New York Governorship.

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright, 1936, by The Marion Star

WASHINGTON, May 22 — The White House will in due time determine who shall run in place of Herbert Lehman for the governorship of the state of New York. And it would not be surprising if President Roosevelt picked James Farley, postmaster general, to be the man.

Naturally, the Democratic state convention in New York will be controlled by the President, who is in a position to veto any other choice. This is because the question of who runs on the ticket with Mr. Roosevelt in the Empire state is a political decision of prime importance on which the President will want to be consulted, and that means his wishes will prevail.

It is no secret that Mr. Farley has had his eyes on the gubernatorial nomination for some time, but, as long as the President seemed anxious to have Gov. Lehman run for a third term, the postmaster general had to suppress his hopes. Indeed, Mr. Farley himself has felt that Gov. Lehman should be renominated.

* * *

But now one of those curious turns of fortune which happen every now and then in politics has forced Gov. Lehman to refuse another nomination. It is supposed here that the death a few days ago of the governor's brother, Arthur Lehman, may have influenced him to wish to return to the family business interests in New York.

Mr. Farley, therefore, is able to press his claim without embarrassment to the governor, whom he admires very much. To be governor of a state of the importance of New York state and to put into effect the administrative ideas which Jim Farley cherishes is an opportunity that few men in political life would forego. A successful career as governor of New York has meant a presidential nomination on more than one occasion. Four years from now, a successor to President Roosevelt will have to be named, assuming his reelection this autumn, and Jim Farley is the jovial, good-natured type who makes numerous friends in politics.

Up to now, Mr. Farley's political management has been more in the limelight than his administration of the postoffice department, though he is quite proud of the record he has made in that portfolio. Mr. Farley is no radical at heart and the impression around Washington is that he would just as soon drop all the Tugwell doctrines into the Atlantic ocean and give business a better chance to cooperate with the party in power.

The one thing that will immediately occur to Democrats more interested in the national election than the gubernatorial race is how the subtraction of Mr. Farley from the high command of the Democratic campaign might weaken the party organization in a national sense. But the face is Mr. Farley has a well-organized and smoothly running party machinery. And besides, he is represented as feeling that the "election is in the bag," so there is really no need of a campaign general—the campaign will run itself.

* * *

From a vote-getting standpoint, Mr. Farley's candidacy is not to be brushed aside. He has a national reputation as an optimist and as the man who brought about the nomination of Mr. Roosevelt in 1932 against the conservative wing of the party. As a practical political leader, he believes in getting deserving Democrats as much, if not more, than they deserve. His allies in the party are legion. He has been chairman of the Democratic state committee of New York and has shown a willingness to fight Tammany whenever necessary. The party chieftains of the upper rank will be for Jim Farley if he seriously seeks the nomination. And if by chance he gets the nomination and becomes governor, the boys in the party ranks will be very happy indeed.

Outside the Democratic party, Mr. Farley is viewed as a "spoilsman" and as a depressing influence in public life, but with Mr. Roosevelt's blessing upon his brow, the postmaster general need not worry about the folks outside the Democratic party in the Empire state. Governor Lehman himself probably would make a few speeches for Mr. Farley and the President would unite his own fortunes with those of Jim Farley.

Glancing Backward

TEN YEARS AGO

It was Saturday, May 22, 1926.

Clyde Geeler, 26, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Keeler of St. James street, was awarded a Frederick Sheldon fellowship at Harvard university. It entitled him to a year's study in Europe with all expenses paid.

Heated controversy developed throughout the country over an executive order of President Coolidge authorizing federal prohibition badges for all city policemen, deputy sheriffs and county constables who would accept them. Critics of the order who included both wets and drys declared it to be "unconstitutional and illegal."

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Paul Secord of Courtland avenue.

Michael O'Brien of East Church street returned from a two-weeks' vacation at French Lick Springs, Ind.

Miss Dorothy Briggs of Marion and Miss Margaret Nimmons of Plymouth, students at Oberlin conservatory of music, were week-end visitors with Miss Briggs' mother, Mrs. O. G. Briggs of South Vine street.

The Marion Athletics defeated McCook's Field Fliers of Dayton at Lincoln park, 9-4. Colegrove pitched for Marion.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

It was Monday, May 22, 1916.

Four hundred Yaqui Indians, called the fiercest fighters in the Mexican army of General Obregon, were pressing closely on the American punitive expedition sent into Mexico to pursue bandits as the United States soldiers withdrew to the border. American officers, however, said it was hardly likely that the Yaquis would make an attack.

A Washington dispatch analyzed the Republican political situation in a news story which said the race for the G. O. P. presidential nomination was "Hughes against the field."

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Stock of Olney avenue and a son to Mr. and Mrs. James Walsh of Delaware avenue.

This was "senior" day at Marion High school, an occasion on which members of the graduating class are permitted virtually to "run riot" without fear of reprimand. The first thing on the morning program was presentation of a play written by Edgar Barnhart, a senior, entitled, "A Tale of Knightie." In the cast were Warren Christian, Ennis Rife, Edgar Barnhart, Dexter Hazen, John Springer and James McMurray.

Behind the News

Men and Affairs Under The Washington Spotlight.

BY PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON, May 22 — The Hopkins-Ickes-Tugwell struggle over the relief doughbag has ostensibly been settled in favor of Mr. Hopkins, but this apparently is not to be the final settlement. A new holder of the new deal purse strings may emerge shortly. His name has not yet been mentioned.

What seems to have happened is that, while the three noisy lads were fighting, the Jones boy, Jesse, has been plucking cherries from the tree.

Mr. Jones is the strong silent man of the new deal. He is chairman of the RFC, a banker, lumberman, investor, hotel proprietor, publisher, store owner and many other things. He fights with his mind instead of his lungs. He knows how many cents there are in a dollar.

Ham Stringing

None of the scrambling trio may yet know of it, but one of them certainly suspects. He is Mr. Ickes. The promoter of PWA has recently been putting directly under Mr. Jones' influence by presidential edict. That is, Ickes must hereafter get all his PWA money from Jones, who takes municipal bonds held by PWA and sells them.

Now, that may appear to be a routine influence to anyone who does not know Mr. Jones. The PWA financing merely revolves around him. However, anything which revolves around Mr. Jones is generally revolved by him, and this will be true of PWA in the future.

Incidentally, this arrangement is said to have been effected not because Mr. Roosevelt doubts Mr. Ickes personally, but because the higher clan of new dealers generally is dissatisfied with some of the men Ickes has around him.

Front

How Mr. Jones will exercise a similar restraining influence over Mr. Hopkins has not yet been fully worked out, but you may confidently expect something to develop on it as soon as the new relief bill is passed. The Jones sphere of influence may be enlarged gradually and without a public ado, but that will not diminish its effectiveness. The altered line-up was devised at least partly for campaign purposes. Jones and his reputation for good business judgment will present a better front than any of the troublesome trio.

Promise

Mr. Ickes and those five other cabinet officers who are supposed to be tossed out after election do not seem to be dejected. In fact, one or two wink slyly when asked about it.

Grounds exist for a suspicion that the talk about a wholesale exodus from the cabinet is being sponsored backstage by the most authoritative new dealers, at least partly for campaign effect. The cabinet is rather generally regarded by politicians as a vulnerable new deal weakness upon which the opposition is certain to strike. The promise of a house-cleaning after election may help to soften expected blows.

The election is more than five months off, and five months, these days, is a long time for promises

Efficiency

Tall, dignified Senator Ashurst expects service, and usually gets it. He was strolling just inside the house chamber and paused to ask a passing clerk some information. The clerk pointed to a nearby clerk's desk, and said:

"Ask that clerk."

Senator Ashurst did, received the information, and strolled out, convinced that the house has efficient clerks.

What he did not know was that the clerk who furnished the information was Representative Andy Somers of Brooklyn, who had strolled into the chamber and seated himself for a moment at a clerk's vacant desk.

Post Mortem

Mr. Roosevelt's name finally got officially involved in the Frazier-Lemke controversy as a post-mortem, after the debate was ended by an adverse vote. Representative Burdick, North Dakota, in remarks extended in the congressional record, said one of the chief reasons the bill was defeated was: "The President was against the measure, as he claimed it was against his financial policy, and the appeal was made to Democrats to support the President."

Insistence

The recently published stories that there will be a tax bill did not attract much attention because the source of statement could not be disclosed. It really came from the highest possible source. Nearly all authorities now agree that the new tax matter has gone too far to be forgotten, although some good congressional authorities still are circulating assurances on the inside that the bill will die in a congressional conference.

Hoover

Mr. Hoover's official renunciation would have been big news six months ago. It caused nary a ripple here when it finally came. Newsmen solicited nearly every Republican senator for comment, but could get very few to utter. The lack of interest may have been partly due to the fact that Mr. Hoover did not include more congressmen in that list of guests he invited to his fishing council in Maryland. The list was not given out, but Senator Hastings is known to have been one of the few Republican legislators called in.

Prophecy

The latest issue of the United Mine Workers Journal has a significant cartoon on the cover. It shows the NRA being crossed out on a blackboard as representing the National Recovery Administration, but depicts NRA as now standing for "Next Roosevelt Administration." In other words, it appears to be a prophecy of a new NRA in the next Roosevelt administration.

Rex Beach observes about the most rigid routine of any writing man. In New York, Florida, or wherever he is he goes to his typewriter at 8 a. m. and remains until 1 p. m. At his 200-acre Florida farm, he raises celery, gladioli and calla lilies and all the work of planting, cultivation and shipping he directs personally. And in between various activities generally beats everybody at golf, shooting or anything they want to try. Among his side ventures, too, is raising pedze hogs. He has a champion boar only nine months old. His next door neighbors are the Courtney Ryley Coopers, who have just finished building a home at Sebring.

Kismet! When John McClain, the ship news reporter, was trekking with a movie outfit in East Africa, they arrived at a dinky, lost town one sundown. McClain and a friend were having a beer at a sidewalk table. An agile and saronged young fakir entertained them with surprising tricks. The natives called him Gilli-Gilli. In the fashionable Rainbow Room a recent night a suave dark young man in immaculate evening clothes stopped at McClain's table doing some remarkable materializations and evanishments. He was Gilli-Gilli.

Most of the literary world was surprised at the comparatively small estate left by Rudyard Kipling. It totaled $742,000. No literary man would sneeze at that sum, but Kipling's books have been selling by hundreds of thousands all over the world for years. Arnold Bennett, who attained great popularity but did not live so long, left about $150,000. H. G. Wells confessed recently he was comparatively poor. Isaac Marcosson is considered one of the richest American writers. Although he has always been a big earner, he inherited the bulk of his fortune.

Of the American poets, Eddie Guest is doubtless the wealthiest of his guild. Aside from his syndicated daily poem, his books of collected verse have a standard sale that runs into hundreds of thousands of copies whenever issued. And, of course, Arthur Brisbane is far and away the richest of the columnists.

TODAY—Italy's War Not So Expensive, as Wars Go.

ITALY SPENT one thousand million dollars on Ethiopia, for conquering in seven months a job that Europe's "military experts" said would require at least three years. How much would such a war have cost the United States, with ten-dollar-a-year patriots acting as self-provided Napoleons? In the big war, not even our war, we spent about two billions on airships that would not fly and surface ships that never went to sea; spent at least fifty thousand other millions of dollars, and were cheated out of ten thousand millions that we lent to our "friends" in Europe.

Before it finishes, this country will pay out between fifty and one hundred thousand millions in pensions.

Mussolini's bill for a real war that really was Italy's war seems reasonable.

Great Fish in Sky

The dullest imagination must have been stirred by the sight of the great airship Hindenburg starting for home in the dark, heading from Lakehurst, N. J., to Frankfort, Germany. After midnight the giant, silvery ship sailed over New York City and its eight million people, many of them standing in streets and on roof-tops, looking upward at a miracle wrought by man.

High in the air, with its great searchlight sweeping the city, the body of the plane looked like some transparent tropical fish; and many felt that they lived, as indeed they do, at the bottom of another ocean as they saw the huge airfish sailing over them bound toward the northeast.

At 1 o'clock in the morning the ship had vanished in the northern sky beyond the sight of New York and before 7 that same morning the big dirigible was flying over Nova Scotia.

After this second round trip to the United States the Hindenburg will fly to Brazil and back, not returning here until June 22.

The sight of that mighty airship while humiliating in its demonstration of American incapacity, carries at least the comfortable reminder that "what men imagine they can do." Americans can at least imagine almost anything.

Later, let us hope, when they return to normal, they will resume doing things.

$200 for Ford, Rockefeller

Dr. Townsend emphasizes his plan's impartiality, saying that the $200-a-month old age pension would be paid to J. Pierpont Morgan, John D. Rockefeller and Henry Ford, as to all others, only each would be compelled to spend his $200 within thirty days after getting it. That would be easy for the three mentioned.

Mr. Rockefeller has given to science and education enough to pay the $200-a-month old age pension for about three hundred thousand years, and Henry Ford has paid out in higher than prevailing wages, more than enough to pay such a pension for a million years.

Sliding the King's Yacht

The racing cutter Britannia, greatest winner of races afloat, will be "buried at sea," instead of being broken up in some shipyard. The fast cutter, escorted by many other sailing yachts, will be towed to deep water and sunk.

The sentiment that sends the fast yacht to the bottom would be understood by ancient heroes that had their favorite horses buried with them, sometimes, also, their favorite wives and other servants.

War Lord Home

Marshal Badoglio, who cleaned up Ethiopia so swiftly, has been called to Rome, perhaps as part of a wise plan not to let anybody grow too big, like the tree Igdrasil, supposed to have its roots in hell, its topmost branches in heaven.

More probably, Mussolini thinks war might start nearer home and wants his best fighting men at hand. Youth, which thinks middle age should retire and make room, will observe that Marshal Badoglio is past 60, as were all those that really amounted to anything in the big war.

This morning's London dispatch about Baldwin issuing a "stern warning to Mussolini," telling him to keep his hands off Egypt and Palestine, makes it probable that Mussolini, who does not like "stern warnings" aimed at him, has good reasons for wanting Badoglio in Rome.

Baldwin announces that his government, "responsible for the administration and protection of Palestine," will discharge its responsibilities to the full"; good news for the Jewish minority in Palestine, where Arabs have organized riots and cut all telephone communications with the outside world.

Important Thing

The Southern Newspaper Publishers' Association decides that the important thing in a newspaper is news; a sound decision.

Provide accurate news and you enable the people to think accurately, which is the only really important thing, another way of saying: "Give light and the people will find their own way."

Political News

In New Jersey's primaries Governor Landon of Kansas won the presidential preference vote by 4 to 1, carrying every county in the state. That is the national political news.

Gov. Herbert H. Lehman of New York announces positively that he will not accept a third nomination for the governorship. The recent death of his older brother, Arthur Lehman, may have influenced the decision of Governor Lehman, who had entirely abandoned his personal business while acting as governor.

LIQUOR AGENTS TO OPEN DRIVE

Nationwide Campaign To Tighten Up Tax Leaks Will Add 500 to Force.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 22—Plans for a coast-to-coast drive by 4,500 officers to tighten up enforcement of liquor laws and the collection of alcohol taxes, were revealed last night by the treasury.

Officials made known that 500 men would be added to the internal revenue bureau's present force of 4,000, and the campaign was expected to be fully under way before July.

To Hit All Rackets

Treasury department spokesmen said the offensive would seek to draw a tighter net against tax evaders, bootleggers, moonshiners and other law violators. Additional men also will seek to provide a more thorough check on liquor and beer manufacturers and dealers throughout the country.

To the present internal revenue staff will be added 260 new inspectors, 125 storekeeper gagers, and more than 100 investigators. They will be assigned to duty in all 15 revenue districts, but with concentrations in specific areas where there is now a shortage of men.

Aim at Big Cities

Officials said many of the new investigators will go to New York, Cleveland, Kansas City and San Francisco, and the additional gagers will be assigned to distilleries in Kentucky, Tennessee, Pennsylvania, Illinois, Indiana and California.

Distillers are now producing 250,000,000 gallons of spirits annually, Stewart Berkshire, deputy commissioner of internal revenue reported. This is an increase of approximately 87 per cent over last year, he said, adding the number of distilleries and plants under the bureau's supervision also had doubled.

In Ohio History

(From the J. H. Galbraith collection of Ohio histories, written for The Associated Press.)

KELLEY'S ORIGINAL NAME

Ohio's summer vacationers have visited Kelley's Island, a state possession in Lake Erie, for three quarters of a century.

The island was first known as Cunningham's Island. It was called that after a French trader who operated a store on the island. He left when the war of 1812 broke out.

In 1818 there came to the island a man named Killam with his family and two men in his employment. They discovered red cedar—the first profitable product that the island had ever given.

In 1836, Datus Kelley moved his family to the island. He was careful of permitting people to secure homes on the island so that the population grew slowly. Vast sums have been paid for the cedar wood, limestone, grapes and peaches found there.

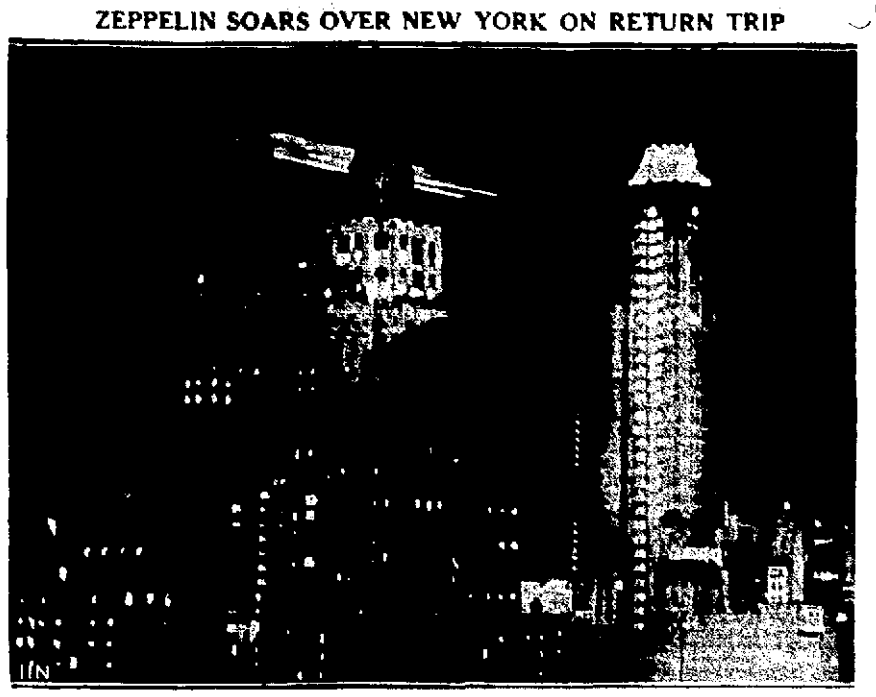
ZEPPELIN SOARS OVER NEW YORK ON RETURN TRIP



New Yorkers were treated to a most unusual spectacle when the giant new queen of the air, the von Hindenburg, soared over the city, apparently passing between the towers of the Waldorf-Astoria hotel, when the huge dirigible took off on its second return trip to Germany about midnight.

QUIZZED IN SLAYING

Suspicions aroused when Guy Tallmadge reported to police of Oregon, Ill., that his wife had been killed by a gunman when the two were held up on a lonely road led authorities to further investigate the case, resulting in a warrant being sworn out charging Tallmadge with her murder.

A presidential decree has been issued in Mexico requiring tests of commercial advertising of medical or hygienic nature to be submitted to the department of health for approval.

HARDIN CO. COUPLE WEDDED IN HEPBURN

Nuptial Vows United Thelma Berry and Donald Wilkerson.

Special to The Star

MT. VICTORY, May 22.—Mr. and Mrs. Willis Berry of north of Mt. Victory are announcing the marriage of their daughter Thelma to Donald Wilkerson, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Wilkerson of southwest of here.

The marriage was solemnized Sunday morning at the United Brethren parsonage at Hepburn, with Rev. J. V. Bigelow officiating. The young couple was attended by a sister and brother of the bride, Miss Erma Berry and John Berry.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Wilkerson attended Mt. Victory High school. They will reside on the farm with Mr. Wilkerson's parents for the present.

20 IN CONGRESS FOREIGN BORN

Eleven Lands Contribute to Membership of U. S. House and Senate.

By United Press

WASHINGTON — At least 11 European countries contributed from their native-born population to the membership of the present congress, a United Press survey discloses.

Birth records of members show that more than 20 came here from abroad and that virtually every section of Europe produced one or more.

Germany, Italy, Great Britain, Ireland and Russia were the birthplaces of at least two or more members, while Spain, Austria, Czechoslovakia, Sweden, Denmark and Scotland produced one member each. Poland, Norway, Finland and Switzerland are believed to have been birthplaces of others, although the official records do not show it. At least two members in their official biographies made special mention of the fact that they came of French blood, although they were born in the United States.

Canada Supplies One

Canada is the only other country contributing directly from its national blood to members of congress. Many countries contributed indirectly in members born in the United States of first or second generation removed from residence abroad.

Germany was the birthplace of Sen. Robert Wagner, Democrat of New York, of Rep. Leonard William Schuetz, Chicago, and R. J. Gehrmann, Wisconsin.

Italy was the birthplace of Rep. Vincent L. Palmisano, Maryland, and Peter A. Cavicchia, Newark, N. J. Palmisano lists Terminese, Italy, as his birthplace. Cavicchia does not mention the exact place of his birth. Numerous other persons of Italian name are found in congress, but they were born in America.

England and Scotland are countries which produced Rep. George Burnham, California, Frank Crowther, New York, and Robert Crosser, Ohio. Burnham was born in London, Crowther in Liverpool, and Crosser at Holytown, Lanarkshire, Scotland.

Delegate Born in Spain

Spain was the birthplace of Santiago Iglesias, delegate to congress from Puerto Rico. He was born at Coruna in 1872 and learned the trade of cabinetmaker before becoming prominent in labor organization work.

Russia was the original land of Rep. Herman P. Kopplemann, Connecticut, and Samuel Dickstein, New York. Kopplemann was born at Odessa. Dickstein does not reveal his birthplace.

Austria sent to Congress Karl Stefan, Nevada, a one-time newspaper writer.

Czechoslovakia provided Adolph J. Sabath, once a judge in Chicago and now one of two members of congress to serve the longest of present members.

Sweden was the birthplace of Rep. Pehr G. Holmes, Massachusetts. He became an alderman in Dorchester, Mass., and then a member of the governors' council before election to congress.

Nevadan from Denmark

Denmark was the birthplace of Rep. Charles G. Sinclerup, Nevada. He was born at Horsens, Denmark, and came with pioneer parents to America at the age of six months. He worked his way upward through the creamery business, mercantile and agricultural pursuits.

Ireland was the birthplace of William R. Barry, representative from Queens county, New York, and of Michael J. Stack, Philadelphia. Barry was born in County Mayo in 1902, the son of Thomas J. Barry and Catherine J. Hennelly Barry. He reached congress through the profession of law. Stack is a decorated World war veteran.

HOUSE ALTERS FLOOD BILL SENATE OKAYED

Overton Measure Undergoes Amendment Similar to Omnibus Proposal

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON May — The house today adopted an amendment to the senate approved Overton bill requiring local interests to contribute to payment of cost for flood works The vote was 79 to 44

Jenkins Republican of Ohio offered the amendment to the $ to 000 000 bill declaring it was similar to one the senate rejected in passage of the $384 000 000 omnibus flood control bill

Chairman Wilson Democrat of Louisiana led the unsuccessful fight against the amendment and was joined by Rep Cox Democrat of Georgia who said approval of the amendment would undoubtedly destroy the legislation

Opponents of the amendment said local interests in the lower valley had contributed $300 000 000 for protection before the government came in to aid them and that the Overton bill differed from the omnibus bill because the latter concerned new projects

The omnibus flood control bill originated in the house last session but underwent many changes before it passed the senate yesterday Senator Copeland Democrat of New York forecast the house would insist upon the rejection of its provisions A senate house conference on the bill was planned for next week

As it passed the senate the bill carries authorization for 216 flood control projects empowers the President to select projects he believes should be started under the $50 000 000 available the first year and requires the interested states and localities to share the cost

The cost sharing proviso was fought by Sen Bilbo Democrat of Mississippi who offered an amendment to require the federal government to bear the whole expense The amendment was defeated by a 55 to 17 vote after Copeland declared If you want a bill that amendment must be killed

The senate also sidetracked a rider to create a national resources board to make a survey preparatory to a board conservation plan

SENIOR LOSES THESIS AFTER LONG LABORS

May Not Get Bachelor of Science Degree Unless Paper Is Found and Turned In

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI May — Mary Louise Boettinger of Hamilton O didn't emulate Diogenes and his lantern today but she hoped nevertheless that an honest man or woman would appear

COMPROMISE TAX BILL RECONSIDERED

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON May — The senate finance committee agreed today to reconsider its day old compromise plan for taxing corporations

The sudden decision to back track on the agreement voted yesterday 18 to 1 was prompted by definite word that the compromise plan embraced a tax on taxes

Some committee sources said that to correct this situation would reduce the revenue yield estimated at from $500 000 000 to $600 000 000 by millions and necessitate turning to some other device for raising money

Report of Graft in Relief Brings New Arguments

Committee Minority Claims Sums from Firms Turned Over to Democrats

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS O May — Democratic minority report marked today what may be the final chapter of a scandal that in March led to federal Relief Administrator Harry L Hopkins assertion that he had incontrovertible evidence that campaign workers for Martin L Davey shook down firms dealing with the ohio state relief administration

A minority report signed by five Republicans of a legislative committee which investigated the charge said

We found that employes of the state relief organization with the knowledge and consent of the officials of the Democratic state organization had made a canvass of those having business dealings with the relief administration of the state of Ohio and had secured and turned over to the Democratic executive committee a large sum of money amounting to at least $9 500

This directly contradicted the majority report signed by three Democratic representatives It said the testimony obtained by investigators and in public hearings at a cost of $10 000 showed that there had been no shakedown

State Democratic Chairman Francis W Poulson immediately on announcement of the minority report yesterday some months after the majority report said he had refused to accept any money collected through relief channels

Kasel and Reps John De Right of Democrat of Cuyahoga and Harold P Miller Democrat of Lucas signed the majority report and H I Phillips Republican of Athens and George Arnold Republican of Preble the minority

Kasel said he agreed with practically all the minority report except the portion alleging the shakedown had taken place He declared $3 000 had been collected from firms handling relief business but that Poulson had refused to accept it

The two Republicans qualified their assertions with

We were unable to find where any crime had been committed but we are of the opinion that such actions were extremely reprehensible and something which should not be countenanced or practiced by any political organization

Their report added however that we were unable to determine the exact cost of administering relief in the state because of what appears to be extensive falsification of the records

ing They said it would do them little good but might enable them to get along until a long term program developed

Favor Need as Basis

These officials favored the administration bill proposal to allocate funds on the basis of need only instead of on a basis of 1933 expenditures as the present law provides However Senate floor leader Paul P Voris predicted the senate would insist on retention of some definite formula

Other legislature developments

Early enactment of the McClusky bill to provide additional liquor agencies for counties was indicated The house adopted a conference committee report and favorable action in the senate was predicted

At Least Five Each

Each county under 10 000 population would be entitled to five liquor stores or agencies and one additional liquor store for each 30 000 over 10 000 Officials were unable to estimate how many outlets would be added to the present 135 stores and 95 agencies

Rep George H Kirkpatrick Republican of Knox introduced a bill to postpone compulsory real estate scheduled for next year until 1942 Chairman D P Ward Republican of Geauga of the tax allocation committee to which it was referred said counties were unable to pay for a general reappraisal this year

LOOPHOLE IN OHIO'S CRIMINAL ACT CITED

Prosecutor Says Housebreaking Not Included Under Habitual Crime Statute.

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND May — Prosecutor Edward J Schneider said today he had found a loophole in Ohio's habitual criminal act by which he believes many persons guilty of felony at second offense might escape full punishment of the statute

The crime of housebreaking is not listed among offenses punishable under the habitual criminal law he said and cited the recent case of John Henry a negro Henry was sentenced to one to seven years in Ohio penitentiary on a housebreaking charge the limit despite the two previous similar convictions for the second of which he had been paroled from the state prison less than a month before he was returned

Schneider suggested to Attorney General John W Bricker the advisability of strengthening the act

SOCIALISTS TO ASK BASIC LAW CHANGES

Reforms Going Deeper Than NRA or AAA To Be Demanded in Their Campaign

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND May —Constitutional changes to legalize social economic reforms going deeper than NRA AAA and the Guffey coal act—all invalidated by the supreme court—will be one of the principal immediate proposals of the Socialist party in the 1936 campaign

Socialist leaders here for the national convention opening tomorrow were agreed today the platform would contain the principle if not the text of the so called workers and farmers rights amendment recently introduced in congress by Sen Benson Minnesota Farmer Laborite

The Socialists urged the introduction of the Benson amendment which would give to congress full regularity authority and virtual dominion of the social economic life of the nation

It would give to congress the power to regulate and prohibit child labor to regulate hours and wages and guarantee the right of collective bargaining to provide for all forms of social security to regulate and operate agricultural marketing agencies to acquire and operate such basic industries as are essential to the social and economic welfare such enterprises to be governed democratically for the benefit of the public

To effect orderly and progressive change Norman Thomas former Marion man said in discussing the Benson amendment such constitutional revision is essential

Criticising the supreme court's Guffey decision Thomas the national leader of the party said

The justices of the supreme court who joined in the majority opinion invalidating the Guffey act are themselves the most dangerous enemies of violence in the United State

DEADLINE NEAR ON CIGARET LICENSES

County Auditor Issues Warning to Dealers, Also Applies to Malt Sales

Many cigaret dealers and sale jokers who expect cigarets after midnight Saturday were warned by County Auditor Harry L Mosier this week that they will have to secure their licenses before midnight Tuesday The deadline for sale of cigarets has been set at the same time

The auditor said that will not be permitted to sell cigarets after the Sunday night deadline unless the fee is obtained before and that a check up will be made to see that they comply with the regulations The auditors office closes at noon Saturday

Approximately 40 dealers have failed to obtain their cigaret license or make application the auditor said while a dozen or more grocers have neglected to get their new malt licenses

The cost of the retail dealer cigaret license is $25 and the wholesale license sold in Marion city and county in May of last year

Malt permits cost $1 Twenty six grocers obtained them last year and to date this year 14 have been sold The auditor stressed that all business places selling malt are required to take out a license

cards of the department that Brothers was about $1 300 hot last year and he told Brothers to get the money and that he (Reinhart) would ask Gov Davey and State Auditor Tracy not to prosecute him (Brothers) for the sake of his family

Brothers on direct examination insisted the state money in his personal account was paid out for bills of the division He said he had canceled checks or receipts for all bills he paid but that they had disappeared from the bus money safe in the division offices while he was on a vacation in March 1935

The practice of using the personal account to pay bills Brothers testified began when Reinhart complained that bills were piling up because of red tape involved in the regular manner of payment through the state treasury

Brothers testified he was married and had three children 22 20 and 17 years old He formerly was a railroad worker in Marion

Defense High Points

High points of defense witnesses testimony late yesterday included

Denial by State Auditor Joseph T Tracy that Mr Brothers was made the goat of the conservation fund investigation

Statement of John Seidensticker president of the Market Exchange Bank that Mr Brothers had deposited $20 917 from 1931 to 1935

And I don't remember an answer from Harry Crossley Sandusky supervisor of the Lake Erie Fishing District when asked whether he had received a $10 check from Mr Brothers—drawn on the persons account—for minnows purchased on a lake fishing trip taken by Mr Reinhart and other state officials

Judge King has ruled all state funds belong in the state treasury by law and that Mr Brothers personal account system was illegal even if as Mr Brothers contends he had the approval of Commissioner Reinhart

TEXTILE TARIFF RAISED BY U. S.

Japan Chief Target of 42 Per Cent Increase on Cotton Approved by President.

By United Press

WASHINGTON, May 22 — The United States tariff commission yesterday announced President Roosevelt's approval of tariff increases averaging 42 per cent on cotton textiles of types which recently have been imported chiefly from Japan.

The tariff increases marked a breakdown in official negotiations which had aimed to solve the situation by a "gentleman's agreement" with Japan whereby that country would voluntarily limit exports of cloths whose competition has antagonized the New England textile industry and provoked widespread political repercussions.

On Ad Valorem Basis

Increases announced to take effect June 20, are applicable to bleached, printed, dyed or colored cotton cloths, containing yarns exceeding 30 but not exceeding 50, and the rates are levied on a graduated ad valorem basis.

The cloths on which duties are changed constituted about 50 per cent of the total cotton cloth yardage imported in 1935, and about 90 per cent of the cotton goods imported from Japan that year.

The changes in rates were recommended by the tariff commission after finding on differences of domestic and foreign costs of production. The investigation was instituted by the commission in response to a senate resolution.

Stresses Japan's Art

Ambassador Hirosi Saito in an address on Wednesday connected with national foreign trade observance here, held that Japan's success in the textile trade "is due to the art, the industry and the enterprise of our people. It is not due to cheap labor or government subsidies. Those are unfair charges against us."

Japan has relied upon United States interest in raw cotton exports to counteract the displeasure occasioned by her sales of exports here. Exports of raw cotton from August, 1935, through April, 1936, to Japan were 1,319,000 bales valued at $84,715,000.

Japan's purchases exceeded those of any other foreign country, the United Kingdom ranking second this season.

PUPILS THRIVE ON MILK

Rationing of milk to children in public schools of Glasgow, the largest unit in the subsidized project of supply arranged by the Scottish Milk Marketing Board, is proving a success. After four months' trial children of different ages have shown an accelerated growth as compared with the records of those of the same ages who were examined a year ago. This information is shown in the official report just issued by Dr. Arbuckle Brown to the Glasgow health department. Malnutrition conditions, such as rickets, are the lowest recorded in 16 years. In Glasgow an average of 137,000 children, or 78 per cent of the roll, receive daily a third-pint of milk for one cent, half the regular price.

Tigers Trim Yanks in Comeback Drive; Indians Lose

BOSTON BEES WIN FROM CINCINNATI ON 4-HIT PITCHING

Washington Gets 7-4 Triumph Over Cleveland; Pirates Beat Phillies.

By The Associated Press

Faint echoes of the thunderous 1934 World Series have begun to rumble through the major leagues as the Tigers and Cardinals are showing something like their championship form of two years ago.

The Cards have been running along in front for a couple of weeks but it took a day in second place to make them buckle down to work in dead earnest and wallop the Giants 4 to 2 yesterday to regain the lead. Meanwhile the injury-riddled Detroit team has started the same sort of comeback it made after a poor start last year, turning back the Yankees 10 to 9 and moving into third place with their sixth consecutive victory.

Foxx Gets Tenth Homer

The triumphs of these two old enemies were the high spots of the big league program yesterday even though Jimmie Foxx belted his tenth home run of the season; Wes Ferrell, John Lanning, the Bees' rookie, and Roy Henshaw turned in some notable pitching; Johnny Whitehead, the White Sox sophomore, and Harry Kelley, the Athletics' freshman, duel for 14 innings before Kelly cracked and the Pirates wound up a six-run ninth inning rally with a homer by Woody Jensen with two aboard to beat the Phillies 7-4.

Beaten by the Giants Wednesday, the Cards had another narrow escape as Paul Dean and Al Smith battled on even terms for eight innings. The ninth, however, spelled the end of New York's nine-game winning streak. Smith passed Pepper Martin with two out, Joe Medwick and Johnny Mize singled and Virgil Davis doubled to bring in three runs. The Giants got one back on singles by Sam Leslie, Mel Ott and Hank Leiber, but Dean retired Gus Mancuso and Pinch Hitter Bill Terry to end the game.

The Tigers turned on the heat in the late innings, just as they did last year, and won out in the last inning after tying the count with three runs in the eighth. Singles by Gerald Walker, Charley Gehringer and Goose Goslin, the World Series hero, produced the winning tally.

Ferrell Gives Seven Hits

Wes Ferrell, knocked out in two innings Wednesday, went right back at the Browns and hurled seven hit ball to win 6-2. Foxx's homer, coming with two aboard in the third, gave him invaluable aid. Lanning, up from Knoxville, pitched a four hitter for the other Boston team and came out ahead of the Reds and Lee Stine, 3-2, when Al Lopez walked and Bill Urbanski doubled him home in the ninth. Henshaw, the Cub midget, curved the Dodgers into submission with seven hits, winning 4-0 with the aid of Gabby Hartnett's circuit drive.

Whitehead, who was even more of a sensation last year than Kelley has been this spring, came close to being the day's hard luck victim. He didn't allow an earned run but his mates made five errors behind him. He finally won out 3-2 in the 14th when Kelley gave three straight walks and then a single to Luke Appling.

The Senators found their experiment of shifting Cecil Travis from short to right field a successful one when the youngster contributed a home run to a 7-4 triumph over Cleveland.

SARATOGA TEAM WINS AT LEMERT

The Saratoga Grill softball team invaded Lemert, O., for a game under the lights last night and handed their opponents a 4 to 2 defeat in game which went 10 innings. The defeat was the first in six games for the Lemert team, which has scored victories over teams from Ashland, Willard, Tiffin, Mansfield and Lima.

Home runs early in the game by C. Reid and Wayne Byers, accounted or two of Saratoga's runs. Their opponents knotted the score in the third frame. Winning runs scored in the tenth inning came as the result of singles by Millisor, Everly and Ruppert.

The Saratoga team will enter a tournament to be held at Lemert, May 30. Sunday afternoon the Saratoga squad will play at Richwood. The score by innings of last night's game follows:

Saratoga	G.	110	000	000	2	—4	11	2
Lemert	...	002	000	000	0	—2	5	4

Millisor and Noble; Klingenberger and Moore.

GAMES TOMORROW

NATIONAL LEAGUE—Pittsburgh at Cincinnati, Boston at Brooklyn, Philadelphia at New York, Chicago at St. Louis.

AMERICAN LEAGUE—Detroit at Cleveland, St. Louis at Chicago, Washington at Boston, New York at Philadelphia.

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION — Toledo at Columbus, Louisville at Indianapolis, Milwaukee at Minneapolis, Kansas City at St. Paul.

Ethan Allen, former all-around athlete at the University of Cincinnati and for the past nine seasons a major league baseball star, is one of the six players in the big leagues today who never played with a minor league team. Allen received a bonus of $5,500 for signing with the Cincinnati Reds upon graduation in 1927. He later played with the New York Giants and is now with the Philadelphia Phillies. The other active players who were never in the minors are: Luke Sewell, former Cleveland Indian catcher, who is now with the Chicago White Sox; Mel Ott of the New York Giants; Frankie Frisch, St. Louis Cardinal manager; Tom Zachary, veteran Brooklyn pitcher; and Ted Lyons, Chicago White Sox hurler.

COLUMBUS RED BIRDS LOSE TWO; BREWERS NOSE OUT ST. PAUL

Kansas City Trims Millers, 24-10; Toledo Wins 17-Inning Game.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, May 22 — The Milwaukee Brewers, whose last American Association championship was achieved in "pre war" days, are showing a punch these days which may put and keep them at the top of the circuit standings.

The Brewers yesterday beat the league-leading St. Paul club 4-3.

Two youngsters sent back from Detroit provided the spark in the victory. Chet Laabs had a home run and two doubles and Chet Morgan had four hits in five trips. Luke Hamlin, also another Detroit prospect, won his fifth straight game as Lou Fette, the Saint's ace, had his winning streak stopped at seven. It was St. Paul's fifth straight loss.

Kansas City, apparently unwilling to forget a 24-10 beating at the hands of Minneapolis early in the week, trimmed the Millers for the third straight day to take the series three games to one. The score was 10 to 6, with Milt Bocek and Hopkins getting homers for the Blues.

In a twilight game, Indianapolis bunched hits in two innings to beat Columbus 9-0. Bud Tinning holding the Birds to seven hits. In a second game, played last night, the Indians made it two straight by whipping the Birds 6-3, winning on a four run burst in the sixth.

Toledo's Mudhens toiled until early today to win a 17-inning game from the Louisville Colonels, 5 to 4. The marathon contest tied the season's record for extra innings, set when the Mudhens recently lost to the Blues at Kansas City over the same route.

Joe Hare pitched all the way for the winners, allowing 18 hits. Schaefer, Marrow, Southard and Bass sharing the job for the Colonels, were touched for 16, including four by Powers, Hens right fielder. Bass bogged down in the last of the 17th to become the losing pitcher.

Masked Terror To Wrestle Wild Red Berry Monday

Wild Red Berry of Pittsburg, Kans. the wrestler who hasn't been able to find enough tough competition in his matches here, may expect plenty when he steps into the ring next Monday night and finds the Masked Terror in the opposite corner. The Berry-Terror match is one of the featured events on the program which will also present Jack Curtis and Sailor Moran. A 20-minute preliminary will begin at 8:30.

Berry, the self-styled Kansas wildcat, took the measure of Joe Kopecky of Jackson, Miss., here last week. Kopecky, considered "tops" since he came out first in a recent battle royal here, fell before a hard and heavy attack by Berry. The latter wrestler, following the scrap, commented, "I'd like to meet some one who can really make me extend myself." Perhaps that's just what the Kansan will be offered next week.

The Terror, whose identity is a carefully guarded secret, was here not many weeks ago to participate in the battle royal. The masked one run into touch luck when several opponents ganged him and eliminated his possibility of going into the final rounds.

The youthful southern scrapper, Jack Curtis, who last week showed Frankie Hill of Hollywood, Calif., a few new tricks of the game, probably will be pressed harder when he tangles with the veteran, Sailor Moran. Curtis returned here several weeks ago after a long absence. His first scrap, a preliminary round with Jack Carson of Utah, ended when he used the crucifix hold to force his opponent to concede the fall in 11 minutes.

Sailor Moran, introduced to Marion fans "way back when," is known as one of the rough and tough exhibitionists. His efforts in the battle royal, however, ended abruptly when he was the second scrapper floored as the result of gang activity. The Sailor can take care of himself well when he faces but one opponent and should give Curtis interesting opposition.

RALPH DE PALMA TO DIRECT MAY 30 RACE

Winner of Indianapolis Title in 1915 Picked as Referee by Rickenbacker.

Special to The Star

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 22—The iron hand with which Ralph DePalma won the 500-mile race in 1915 will rule the Indianapolis speed classic again May 30. DePalma has just been selected by officials of the Indianapolis Motor Speedway as referee of the 24th annual renewal of the competition.

Announcement by Capt. E. V. Rickenbacker, president of the speedway, automatically eliminates DePalma as pit manager for Harry "Hank" Banks, Royal Oak, Mich., who will be driving a car built by DePalma. Ralph groomed the youngster for this big-league drive and it is likely that William Banks, Hank's father, an old-time English racer, will handle the pit directing.

DePalma holds the record for miles driven in competition at Indianapolis, having whirled 1,500 over the Hoosier bricks. His career here was climaxed with his spectacular 1915 victory, but he established in the money five times in all.

Grey-haired but still robust, DePalma looks back on a racing career in which he was a teared competitor in any race he entered on the bricks, boards or dirt. His retirement from competition came in 1934, when he found that he simply could not keep pace with the speed of the youngsters. Ralph realized times were changing when his nephew, Pete DePaolo, won the 500-mile race in 1925, leaving DePalma far behind. But the old master flashed to the front in many contests after that.

Surveying the strict technical requirements, and improved speed way, DePalma said, "Undoubtedly this will be the safest race in the history of the 500-mile event since 1911. The few accidents, none serious which occurred before qualifying, the perfect record on the first two days of qualifying, and the increased speeds despite fuel economy requirements seem to me to present the most spectacular competitive setup in years."

A double acting pump that delivers either an ounce or half ounce of liquids with each stroke of its handle has been invented for filling bottles from larger containers.

Suddenly Dirk was aware of an odor in the room, the faint, not altogether stale, odor of cigarets. He thought of Timothy who held that ghosts have their "scent." He thought of Nora who had said that Mrs. Joris did not smoke. Nora, he recalled, did not look after Mrs. Joris's room these days. That nervous people sometimes took up smoking, Dirk was aware.

He said:

"I understand that Martin himself was worse than the burglar, or whatever it was."

"Mary," she answered, 'says that it was a ghost.'

'Yes, I know. I didn't know whether you'd heard of the tower-ghost or not . . . Whatever it was, Hope, I want you to move your room.'

"But I like this room."

"Even though it's haunted?

Dirk smiled as he said the word, but he was serious enough in wanting her out of here, in wanting to examine this room as he had never examined it. The smell of cigarets disturbed him, even though, to his mind, Hope might have good reason to take up smoking.

She answered now in the low voice.

"I don't think the room's haunted."

"And you're not afraid?" he asked.

After the barest possible moment her face turned to him. He thought he could have seen her face, star-white with the tragic eyes, even in the dark.

"No," she said. "I am not afraid."

Defiance, faint but unmistakable, was in her voice.

Dirk spoke impulsively.

'I know you're afraid, Hope. Let me help you."

She looked at him. 'You think I'm afraid?"

"I'm sure of it. Won't you trust me?"

"But why should you think I'm afraid?"

"What else? Why else should you have the revolver?"

Her eyes lit darkly.

"I knew it was you. Where is it?"

"The revolver?" he said. "I knew nothing about it . . . nothing about your having it . . . till Nora told me. She found it in the safe."

* * *

"Nora . . . In the safe."

She repeated the words automatically, as if they had stunned her. Then suddenly:

"Nora opened a safe!" she said. "She took what was not hers. It's common thievery."

So that was her opinion of the transaction. And she had assumed that the thief was he.

"Nora didn't know that the revolver belonged to you," he explained. "She dusts in the safe occasionally. When she found a gun in it she took it out for fear you might run across it, and hurt yourself. Was it loaded?"

She said that it was. She had risen now, and was moving about the room, quietly at first, then blindly, distractedly, like a moth. The painted shawl had fallen on the floor, and Dirk picked it up. Dirk lit the lamp, and she whirled about, facing him, paler than ever in the light.

"Aren't you going to tell me where it is?"

"Rupert has it," he answered quietly. "Nora took it in to Rupert."

"You mean Rupert has it with him . . . at camp?"

"I don't know yet. It hasn't been found in his room. I've ordered Nora to make a thorough search. I have my own reasons for hoping he didn't see fit to go off with such a thing. You don't hunt grouse with revolvers."

She had paused, and after a moment:

"I know," she said, speaking as quietly as he. "It may be . . . he didn't take it," as if to reassure them both. "It may be he merely didn't want me to have it. If Nora finds it . . ."

"If Nora finds it," Dirk finished as she paused, "you shall have it back. Or I'll get you another. If you are afraid, and won't leave the room . . ."

"I'm not afraid," she broke in firmly. 'The gun is not new."

"Well at any rate, you won't leave the room."

"I see no need to."

"All right. Hope. But admit you are nervous, and not very well."

He had approached her on his way to the door was holding out his hand as if in good-by. She seemed not to see the gesture, but he continued to stand there, and presently she laid her hand in his.

'And cold," he added. "Your hand is like ice."

I know' she admitted. "I can't get used to your winter."

"I'll tell Bernard to send up more heat," he said.

She had felt about her shoulders for the little shawl. It was still in Dirk's hand and he laid it around her, she was close to him now. Her tumbled hair brushed his face.

"Hope dear! Hope, please . . ."

He felt her stiffen beneath the shawl beneath his hands. She withdrew, moving slowly now, standing beside the chair facing him, waiting for him to go.

* * *

It was no use. She wouldn't confide in him, wouldn't admit even that there was anything to confide. She had no faith in him, had even thought him capable of stealing her revolver. And he had estranged himself still further by accusing her of fear.

"After all," he said, "it takes a pretty brave girl to own a forty-five gun. I take back what I said about your being afraid. But I do say you aren't well, and I don't want you to have any more shocks. Matter or otherwise. If you do hear anything, I hope you'll call me."

The little smile he had seen that first night touched the corners of her mouth.

"I suppose," she said, "that you're a tower of bravery, yourself."

"Well at any rate," he answered, I could fight anything you were mad at."

"So can I," she said.

"Then the two of us could lay anything I want you to call me and if you don't get better right away, I want you to see a doctor. Promise?"

She nodded, faintly smiling, standing in the aura of the lamp.

In the hall Dirk met Mary approaching with a tray. Earlier in the evening he had wondered about Mary, about the freedom of her access to Hope's room when the other servants were excluded. He had dismissed the question with its aroma of distrust.

Mary had from the start appropriated Hope with a respectfully maternal hand. She was slightly deaf, and very near-sighted, and completely lacking in suspicion.

Always she had evinced a disconcerting gift for accepting any account as true. Dirk remembered how she had said to him that first Sunday morning, the morning that Hope had disappeared, and he had ridden out to find her: 'Mrs. Joris has been to church, sir.'

He had doubted this with a vague and unhappy doubt, but Mary had believed it.

This quality in Mary—a credulity that no doubt had its root in loyalty—Hope had no doubt divined. And who, when ill or troubled, would not have preferred Mary's precise and gentle ministrations?

Dirk replied now to her inquiries concerning Rupert, and said to her:

"I'm worried about Mrs. Joris. I think we should call a doctor."

Mary answered that Mrs. Joris didn't seem ill enough for that. 'She'll be all right." Mary added. 'What do you think it is?" Dirk asked.

'Worry, sir . . . that's all."

Dirk, tomorrow, gets disturbing information from Mary.

BY HELEN ROWLAND

BEWARE THE LOVE-MOTH.

This is the time of year when the vamp, like the moth miller, begins to be most dangerous. Watch out!

There are male vamps as well as female vamps, and, like poets, they are born that way and are practically incurable. They are "addicts," who will limp down to the grave in pursuit of a new adventure, a new conquest or a new thrill. To them, love is just a "game" of which they never tire.

If you are a glutton for punishment, marry a drink-addict or a dope-fiend; but, unless you are bent on self-destruction, don't marry a love-addict in the hope that you may "save him." For you will never save him for yourself!

* * *

The masculine love-addict can never become a one-woman-man, because no one woman can ever satisfy his hungry vanity—that "white elephant" which must be eternally fed. Rheumatism cannot halt him in the love-chase, and the harder his arteries, the softer his heart—and his head.

No matter how much he may love one woman he can never resist the invitation in another woman's eye, and he will spring to response like an old war horse at the sound of the bugle-call. Even though his wife may manage to keep his material body by his own hearthside, his thoughts and his spirit will always be wandering in the fields of asphodel—and forbidden romance.

He just can't help it! It's a weakness in his make-up, as unconquerable as the weakness for strong drink in another man's nature or the craving for money in a miser's make-up.

* * *

No wedding ring and no wedding vows will ever bind his roving fancy or deaden his thirst for admiration, novelty and the stimulation of another conquest.

His heart is like a cross-town bus—in which there is always "room for one more." Or like a barber-shop, in which the cry is always "Next!" He cannot make his eyes behave—even at his own wedding!

All this uncertainty may be very exciting and intriguing during the glamorous days of courtship. It may even add zest to the chase and make the capture more desirable and triumphant.

But, after marriage it wears out your vanity and fills you with an inferiority complex. Life soon becomes just a series of heartquakes and headaches, to the wife of a love-addict.

Just one moth-miller can be the finish of the best wool sweater—and just one meetings to a love-meth can finish a woman!

Mrs. Barnes Willingly Arranges for Madge to See Marion Alone at the Inn

MRS. BARNES, the hot-headed mistress of Whitney Hall, the wisest and kindest woman in charge of girls whom I have ever known, can be as fierce a champion to her wife as she can be gentle as were and didn't let a girl setting upon her step.

As I heard her voice saying that she would save breakfast for us, I knew that I must speak quickly if I did not wish to lose my whole scheme for the morning. Marion go away.

"Dear Mrs. Barnes," I said quickly, "I know of nothing I would rather do than breakfast with you. But we breakfasted royally just a little while ago. I passed my conscience with the reflection that it seemed but an hour or two since we started from the farmhouse—and I have a very important errand which I must discharge as soon as I reach the school and in which I must beg your cooperation."

"My dear," she said earnestly, "you know that I am at your service always. Tell me what you wish me to do."

"Will it be possible to see Marion directly after breakfast, and talk to her until class time? I would not ask it if it were not an urgent matter."

"Of course," she said, I do hope it isn't anything troubling as well as important."

"No, no," I assured her quickly, for I knew that her thoughts had flown back to the message that had hung over Marion in the past, and which had been ended only with the death of Samuel Dickson's half-brother, Charles Owen. "But it is urgent that I see her—and alone."

"Does she know that you are coming?"

"No, she doesn't," I said truthfully, for I had sent no message to Marion. "But here is another angle. I do not wish Carolyn to know that I am here."

"Let me think!" she said, and for two or three second there was silence. Then she spoke with crisp decision.

"If you will go to the Inn where you stayed before during that awful time neither of us will never forget, I will bring Marion to you directly after breakfast. I shall behave as if I wanted her for some errand of my own, and if Marion keeps silent, as I am sure she will, I do not think Carolyn or any of her mates will question any action of mine."

"No, I do not imagine they would," I said with an intonation that she evidently understood, for she laughed merrily.

"What shall I tell Marion?" she asked next. "I will speak to her as soon as I can without attracting attention."

"Tell her that I must see her about something which is important, but there is no reason for her to worry," I said, knowing that Marion would not wish Mrs. Barnes to know she had sent for me. "And she must say nothing to Carolyn."

I will arrange everything," she said efficiently. "I will have my own breakfast served in my apartment and have Marion hurry through her own so that I can send for her before breakfast is over. In that way I can drive her away from the school and over to the hotel while the rest of the girls are still at breakfast.

"Chapel is in session from eight forty-five until nine, and the girls are all in attendance, so if you will deposit Marion outside the school grounds at about seven minutes to nine, you can drive away unobserved, and she will be in time for her classes. Does that arrangement suit your convenience?"

"It is perfect!" I exclaimed enthusiastically. "There isn't a flaw in it."

"I hope none will snap," she said. "I will send for Marion now and tell her that you are on your way. Will you telephone me again, please, as soon as you reach the Inn? You needn't give your name again—the less said over the telephone the better."

"I'll phone the minute I reach there," I promised, and then her receiver clicked with mine and I went back to the car.

"All set?" Dicky inquired.

"Mrs. Barnes is a wonder," I exclaimed enthusiastically as I climbed into the car. "She understood what I wanted and thought out all the details in about half a minute."

"I don't think her worst enemy, if she had one, could accuse that name of not being quick on the uptake," Dicky said approvingly, and when he had listened to the plans Mrs. Barnes had made, he added: "I don't believe she ever misses a trick. But we'll have to step on the gas a bit or we'll miss connections."

"Oh! do hurry!" I urged, and he "stepped on it" to such good purpose that we arrived at the Inn well before eight. I telephoned Mrs. Barnes, and it was but a few minutes later that Marion dashed up the stairs to the room we had taken, and into my arms.

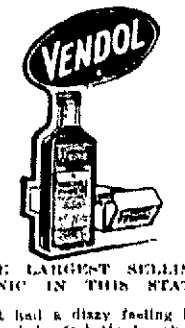
WYANDOT COUNTY COUPLE MARRIES

Special to The Star

UPPER SANDUSKY, May 22—The marriage of Mrs. Grace Pfeiffer of north of this city to John Meincer of Harpster which occurred at Cardella, Fla., March 18, has been announced. The ceremony was witnessed by Mrs. Pfeiffer's mother, Mrs. Laura Warfel, of this city. Mr. and Mrs. Meincer will reside on the Pfeiffer farm south of this city.

Nothing Equals Vendol For Dizziness and Constipation

That is what prominent citizen says after taking this famous medicine a few weeks. Advises every one to try it if they suffer this way.



THE LARGEST SELLING TONIC IN THIS STATE

"It certainly was a lucky day for me when I began taking Vendol, because I had spent a lot of money trying to get back my health, and truly, Vendol has done me more good than anything I ever tried," declared Mr. Giuliga Cliesse of 318 Quarry St., Marion.

"If I would lean over, everything went spinning around and I would have to hold on to something to steady myself because I was so dizzy. I was constipated all the time, spots floated before my eyes, my tongue was coated and my skin looked dull and sallow.

"I read what people said that Vendol had done for them for the same troubles as mine so I got some and a box of the little Vendol laxative tablets and I wish I had known about this wonderful medicine long ago.

"My constipation has been relieved and now I'm regular every day, the coating has disappeared from my tongue, breath is pure, my skin has cleared up and I haven't had a dizzy feeling lately.

"I used to feel tired, achy and stiff every morning, but now I get out of bed after a good night's rest feeling fine and I give all the credit to Vendol. It surely is good medicine."

It is not unusual to have people say they got such quick relief by taking Vendol that it surprised them. It is because Vendol is a correctly blended medicine made from juices of roots and herbs that act pleasantly on the stomach and bowels. Do not confuse Vendol with any other medicine, because Vendol is different.

VENDOL is sold by all leading druggists everywhere and is highly recommended here by Heeney & Cooper.—Ads.

BAPTISTS CONSIDER MERGER PROPOSAL

Christian Church Suggests Action at Kansas City Convention in October

By The Associated Press

ST LOUIS May 25 Merger was in the air at the 107th Baptist convention today

No definite unification with the denominational news was expected at the annual meeting but the proposal of a former faction of the International Convention of Disciples of Christ (Christian church) for consideration for action to unite brought the matter squarely before the delegates

Dr George A Cunyus pastor of a St Louis Christian church asked the Southern Baptists to appoint a committee this week to meet with the Disciples convention in Kansas City in October to consider a merger The Disciples list a membership of 1 600 000

Warm applause greeted his suggestion and last night the central council of the Baptists was locked in a long session secretly to argue his plea Dr Maurice D Lesh corresponding secretary of the Baptists said he believed a resolution in favor of a merger would be presented on the convention floor

G-MAN'S SLAYER?

Harvey Crouch (above) 41 year old Indianapolis ex convict who is being hunted by federal agents was named by James Jacobs 39 held by G men as the man who slew Federal Agent John R Foster near Hammond Ind on May 14 with a high powered rifle

ILLINOIS G. O. P. BACKS KNOX AT CONCLAVE

Resolution Pledges Eight Delegates at Large to Chicago Publisher.

By The Associated Press

PEORIA Ill May 25 — An indorsement of the presidential candidacy of Col Frank Knox at state party conventions by Party leaders said a resolution pledging to the Chicago publisher the support of eight delegates at large had their support

C Wayland Brooks nominee for governor and co keynoter was selected to submit the Knox resolution

Charles G Dawes former vice president was slated for a place on the delegation

Leaders said all were expected to support Knox for president and to aid George F Harding of Chicago in his campaign to replace Frank L Smith of Dwight as Republican national committeeman

The resolution indorsing Knox as the Illinois favorite son was reported limited to delegates at large without attempting to pledge the 43 district delegates elected at the April 24 primary

On campaign issues most of the conventions fire was directed at Democratic Gov Henry Horner

Did you ever?

Did you ever wish that you had looked around a little more before buying some of the furniture you now own, and are not exactly happy with? Many have.

You are careful when you buy a dress. Consider how many more years you must live with your furniture than you will wear the dress.

You should make SURE that you are getting the right style, the right construction. ALL there is to be had in comfort; and the right price. You can't be certain of this unless you make comparisons.

Schaffner's invite you to look around first and then see what we have to offer. (We must feel sure of our ground when we suggest this—don't you think so?)

DRIVE STARTED TO OPEN LAKES

State Officials in Mt. Gilead To Investigate Closing of Fishing Places to Public.

Special to The Star

MT. GILEAD, May 22—A movement is now on foot to open the state lakes here for fishing this summer. The park has been opened to the public during the last two weeks after state officials had been subjected to some pressure from local sources.

Representatives of high state officials were here unofficially this week to investigate the closing of the lakes and the public sentiment in regard to reopening them. Last summer there was agitation locally to have the lakes reopened soon after they were closed on an order from the conservation department.

Fishing was not allowed at any time last year, the conservation department holding that the lakes could only be used for fish propagation. The park has been allowed to grow up in weeds and debris has not been removed. If the investigators find that the public sentiment here favors reopening the lakes to fishing the matter may be presented to Gov. Martin L. Davey for decision. Last year hundreds of Morrow and Marion county sportsmen and other citizens signed petitions asking the department officials to keep the lakes open to the public.

Your Health

BY DR. R. S. COPELAND

Convalescent Child.

A well-known child psychologist recently said, "Taking care of a convalescent child is more difficult than caring for a thoroughly sick one. The child thinks he is able to do anything he wants to do. Lying in bed he feels strong. It would be a very different matter if he tried to get on his feet, of course, but he does not know this and insists upon having things his own way."

If you have had any experience in caring for a child recuperating from a severe illness, you will agree with the statement. The child wears out the parent and those who care for him. In his efforts to get out of bed and play. Yet it is of vital importance that every effort be made to restrain the child. He must be guarded against severe and tiring movements. The avoidance of serious complications often depends upon keeping the child as quiet as possible.

In many of the so-called "childhood diseases" mothers are prone to be negligent and careless in the after-care of the child. For example, children who are recovering from measles are too often permitted to romp around and play with your children. Bear in mind that pneumonia and other of the breathing apparatus infections are prone to occur after an attack of measles. The child suffers from lowered resistance and is extremely susceptible to every infection.

There is another danger that must not be overlooked. Even though a child is on the road to recovery it is possible that he is still harboring the germs of infection. For this reason it is best not to allow other children to visit the sick room. It is true that the convalescent child desires company, but often it is not wise to permit it.

The older child is less difficult to amuse and easier to keep occupied. As a rule he resorts to reading and writing. Here, too, precautions should be taken to avoid excessive reading. Guard the child's eyes after an illness and do not permit him to read for a long stretch of time. Excessive use taxes the eyes and affects the nervous system. This prevents thorough rest and relaxation.

The diet is of great importance to the convalescent child. Mothers know how difficult it is to get the child to eat. Though it is necessary to give as much nourishment as possible, it is equally important to avoid overfeeding and stuffing.

The Stars Say--

For Saturday, May 23

The planetary rulership for this day is interpreted as a very auspicious and active one, without inciting to deeds of the first magnitude. The energies and faculties will be found stimulated to high enterprise in possibly unusual lines or out of the ordinary undertakings, or probably in strange places or in associations with strange people.

Those whose birthday it is may be prepared for a very lively and enterprising year, with the energies and faculties pitched to high pressure, probably in lines of initiative or in connection with strangers. Employment and also transactions with rings combines or secret societies are particularly encouraging for success.

A child born on this day may be enterprising, with talents leading to the unusual, original or bizarre. It may be socially popular and romantic.

UTILITY GROUP FILES REPORT

$783 Spent in Campaign for Water Plant Purchase; Candidate Accounts Listed.

The Citizens' Utility committee, an organization of local men who sponsored purchase of the property of the Marion Water Co. by the city, has filed with the board of elections an account of its expenditures in the successful attempt to obtain voter approval of the purchase at the May 12 primary election.

The committee lists its expenditures at $783.34 and contributions received at the same time. Following is the source of the contributions listed by the committee: C. W. McNear & Co. of Chicago, and Walter, Woody & Heimerdinger of Cincinnati, bond houses with whom the city had entered into a contract to purchase the water revenue bonds, $98.34; J. W. Jacoby, $25, and former Mayor C. A. Bolin, C. A. Kline and Fred W. Warner, $25 each.

Most of the expenditures were made for advertising, printing and distribution of printed matter, the committee's account shows.

Additional accounts of expenditures filed by primary candidates in the last few days show Dr. C. J. Altmaier spent $9.92 in his successful bid for the post of Eighth district state Democratic central committeeman, while his unsuccessful opponent, J. W. Jacoby, spent $186.15.

John Buck listed expenditures totaling $115.10 in his unsuccessful campaign for the Republican nomination for county commissioner and D. L. Brady, also an unsuccessful candidate for the same office, listed expenditures totaling $58.09.

Carl H. Tozzer, unopposed Democratic nominee for county surveyor, spent $28.26, his account shows. James W. Harruff, in his successful bid for the Democratic nomination for sheriff, spent $45.55. Virgil D. Shaw, unsuccessful candidate for the Republican nomination for county recorder, listed expenditures totaling $61.69. Samuel Almendinger, unopposed candidate for the Democratic nomination for county representative, had no expenses. Harry W. Welch, unsuccessful in his bid for the Democratic nomination for sheriff, spent $28.39. Judge Oscar Gast, unopposed for the Republican nomination for probate judge, spent $16.50.

"One soap for our double-job wash . . . Chipso"
SAYS MRS. L. J. ALTIERI, NEW BRIGHTON, STATEN ISLAND, N. Y.
"SAFE for my girls' daintiest colored dresses . . .
QUICK-WASHING for the clothes my boys get so dirty!"

HERE IS ONE OF MRS. ALTIERI'S DOUBLE-JOB WASHES

NICE THINGS		HEAVY LAUNDRY
2 sweater blouses (colored) for Rosemary	13 sets dainty underwear	7 middy blouses for Nancy
2 colored broadcloth dresses for Nancy	7 slips	6 play-suits for Jerry and Joe
14 colored suits for Jerry and Joe	2 dainty pajamas	6 polo shirts for John
2 breakfast cloths (colored borders)	1 nightgown	1 blouse for John
1 printed voile dress (self)	14 dainty handkerchiefs	17 pieces boys' underwear
1 tub-silk dress (self)	14 pairs socks (colored tops)	7 pairs stockings
	7 pairs service-weight hose	3 pairs socks
	2 lace tablecloths	4 suits pajamas
		21 handkerchiefs
		24 bath and hand towels
		24 kitchen towels	10 sheets
		14 pillow cases	50 napkins

YOU'VE only to see John, Jerry and Joe Altieri (respectively 10, 7 and 5½ years old) in a rough-and-tumble with the neighborhood boys on their front terrace, to know that the play-suits in Mrs. Altieri's wash are good and dirty. But does Mrs. Altieri have to use harsh, "dirty-clothes" soap in her machine? No—she has too much respect for the dainty clothes that are in her wash, too. She uses Chipso. Chipso is a fine, rich soap. It gives suds with enough "staying power" to float dirt loose quickly . . . and these suds are safe!

"I really can't praise Chipso enough," Mrs. Altieri writes. "This lovely fine-flaked white soap helps us get through washday early . . . makes my sheets, towels and [illegible] models of SNOWY WHITENESS . . . and actually protects all my nice things."

Isn't YOUR wash, too, a combination of "nice things" and "heavy, dirty things"? Try Chipso, the double-job soap. Ordinary package . . . [illegible] as much as Chipso . . . [illegible] Chipso, the double-job soap, gets dirt OUT

OHIO BOATMEN SET TO START

Excursion Craft Prepared for Launching of River Season Early in June.

By The Associated Press

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., May 22—Owners of Ohio river excursion steamers ordered the boats polished and the machinery tuned up today in anticipation of the summer season opening early in June. Meanwhile U. S. government engineers announced plans to sweep the river channel below Midland, Pa., dam No. 2 here, and dam No. 5 at New Cumberland, W. Va. The project to remove bars and other obstructions will be completed during the summer months.

A government survey party from Pittsburgh will supervise the work of making soundings and dredging. River men said some of the worst spots were below Midland and at New Cumberland.

Passenger steamers slated to return to service for the summer season include the Washington with Capt. Fred Way, Jr., of Sewickley, Pa., at the wheel; and the Gordon Greene when it returns from a trip to Muscle Shoals. Both will ply between Pittsburgh and Cincinnati.

The sidewheel steamer Island Queen has inaugurated the season at Portsmouth and will work upstream slowly. The showboat Bryant opened its season at Charleston, W. Va. The packet Liberty, which will also carry passengers has been in service for some time.

Other river news of the week included:

Government engineers received a bid of $296,342 from the Dravo Contracting Co. of Pittsburgh to repair a pumpboat, two maneuver boats, and a towboat. Preparations are under way for rebuilding a quartermost to provide additional quarters for government workers.

Col. William E. R. Covell of Panama City, C. Z., took charge of the Pittsburgh district under the war department, succeeding Maj. W. D. Styer. Major Styer will go to Panama City.

The Marietta Manufacturing Co. delivered the first four of a fleet of 16 standard steel coal barges to Pittsburgh.

PROTECT HEALTH!...disinfect the "danger zones"!

ACCORDING to scientific investigation "danger zones" exist in every home. Unless cleansed hygienically, they harbor germs which menace health. The disinfecting power of Clorox is transforming ordinary cleansing into hygienic cleanliness in millions of homes—let Clorox establish this greater health protection in your home, too.

Without extra effort on your part Clorox protects—it disinfects and deodorizes as you cleanse the "danger zones"—dishes, glassware, refrigerators, food containers, drainboards, sinks, drainpipes, garbage receptacles, bathtubs, basins, toilet bowls, sickroom utensils, towels, handkerchiefs, table and bed linens.

Clorox also bleaches white cottons and linens, makes them truly white and sanitary. Ordinary stains and dinginess vanish when Clorox is used in the regular laundering process. Stubborn stains—even scorch and mildew—are easily removed in a slightly stronger solution.

Like Clorox itself, the Clorox label is a revelation of safer and easier housekeeping. It also lists many important personal uses. Clorox is concentrated for economy. Order by name—there is only one Clorox.

QUINTUPLET BIRTHS IN WORLD NUMBER 29

Sextuplets Listed Twice and Septuplets Once in Survey Made by Germans.

By International News Service

BERLIN May 22—Birth of quintuplets to a Rumanian gypsy woman raises the number of known quintuplet births to 29 with sextuplets on the calendar twice and septuplets once reports Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung in a survey of multiple births

They found that twins are more common than it is generally believed In Europe every 99th birth is a twin birth In Japan however twins occur only once every 500 births

According to the Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung the oldest living twins are Frau Therese Juenge and Frau Cecile Jaek, daughters of an Hanoverian officer They were born on Oct 13 1854 and are now together in a old people's home at Alt Bennebek near Kirchenrode

The latest census reveals only 463 people born as triplets are living in Germany In Berlin three times as many were registered in 1935 Triplets born in Weimar Bavaria celebrated their second birthday April 20 Adolf Hitler's birthday

At the last census 11 people born as quadruplets were living in Germany Only one quadruplet birth was registered in Germany in 1935 and that on New Years eve

Births of septuplets have been authoritatively established only twice in 1585 by a woman in a village on the Lake of Lugano and by a Negress on the Gold coast

Seven babies are said to have been born to a Frau Roemer at Hamelin of pied piper's fame about 1600 A tablet on the house commemorates that fact

NEGLECT OF CONSTIPATION* IS A SERIOUS MATTER

Delicious Cereal Corrects This Condition in a Natural Way

Immediate attention to constipation* is important for two reasons It causes discomfort and may lead to headaches and loss of appetite It also tends to slow you down

When elimination continues to be faulty over a period of time your general resistance may be lowered And a weakened body is less able to fight off the infections that abound in every crowded place

The most common type of constipation is that caused by insufficient 'bulk' in meals In Kellogg's ALL-BRAN you have a delicious source of effective 'bulk'

Within the body the "bulk" in ALL-BRAN absorbs moisture forms a soft mass and gently cleanses the system This tempting cereal also furnishes vitamin B and contains iron

Two tablespoonfuls daily are usually sufficient Serve as a cereal with milk or cream or cook into tempting muffins breads etc How much pleasanter to enjoy this natural laxative food instead of taking pills and drugs

ALL-BRAN is guaranteed by the Kellogg Company Sold by all grocers Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek

*Constipation due to insufficient 'bulk'

AID OF AUTO OWNERS SOUGHT IN OHIO SURVEY

Questionnaire To Be Sent Out in Quest of Vital Highway Information.

Marion county and vicinity will be included among approximately 40 per cent of the registered automobile owners of the state who will be mailed questionnaires beginning the week of May 18, Highway Director John Jaster, Jr., announced today.

The questionnaire will be sent to about 750,000 of the more than 1,600,000 Ohio car owners by the Ohio highway planning survey in cooperation with the U. S. bureau of public roads.

The questionnaires will seek information as to the yearly mileage and gas consumption on city streets, state highways, rural routes and on trips outside the state.

Director Jaster pointed out that the purpose is to supplement other information indicating to what extent highway funds are furnished by highway users and to what extent they are derived from other sources. The purpose is also to determine the respective proportion of such funds contributed by rural and urban car owners.

Special emphasis is being given this phase of the study, Jaster said because of the fact that motor vehicle owners are the source of the greatest share of highway revenues through license fees and gasoline taxes.

Inasmuch as the value of the study will depend entirely upon the interest shown by the motor car owners, their cooperation is asked in filling out and returning the questionnaires.

The object of the entire survey is to make available actual facts and figures upon which to base a long-time constructive plan of road development throughout the state. The work is being performed in three distinct phases:

1. Physical inventory of all roads in the state.
2. Traffic survey covering the county and township roads as well as the state highways.
3. Financial and road-use investigation showing the sources and expenditures of all funds having to do with highways in each political sub-division of the state.

"Robin Hood of El Dorado" at the Palace tonight and Saturday is red-blooded drama, alive with its moments of comedy and romance which lighten the heart-touching story of a real-life Mexican patriot who tried to save his beloved California from the onslaught of empire-building Americans who saw in the country only its gold, its wealth of material advantages and none of the tradition, the glory, the beauty of the country that was born and bred in the blood of its natives.

Warner Baxter in the role of Joaquin Murrieta, a peon who was in real life a defender of old California, is as colorful, as convincing and as dashing a hero as he was in one of his best roles, the lead in "In Old Arizona." The picture was made in Joaquin's native haunts in California and the grandeur of the scenery is breath-taking at times. The photography is excellent. It's a picture the entire family will enjoy and one that will have its thrills for any theater fan.

Baxter, who is beaten by vicious American miners, swears revenge when they attack his lovely wife—played by Margo—and she dies, organizes Mexicans and makes daring onslaughts against Americans. He continues his raids until, accidentally, a young girl is murdered while his men are holding up a stage coach bound for the coast. On the eve of breaking up his band of men and returning to Mexico, the Americans, led by Bruce Cabot whose girl it was that was killed, discover the Murietta strong-hold and there is a terrific battle in which Murietta's men are killed and Ann Loring, a girl who joins the band after her father is murdered by the Americans, is injured fatally. Dying, Murieta finds his way to the grave of the girl he has loved through the years, and there the story of Joaquin, defender of California, ends. The history of Murieta is told in the annals of California and his life is one of the most colorful of the old west. The screen brings the bandit-patriot to life and imbues him with the romance, the history, the drama, of the epic days of California's history. J. Carroll Naish in the role of Joaquin's chief henchman, adds not only color, but touches of comedy to the story.

A winter sports reel, a color cartoon, "Bottles," and a newsreel complete the bill.—H. H.

CRACK OF DAWN

Pain in Neck Proves More Than Muscle Stiffness.

By The Associated Press

LA SALLE, Ill., May 22—John Demes awakened from a sound sleep, turned his head suddenly to look at the clock and felt a sharp pain in the neck.

John said he thought at first it was just an ordinary stiff neck but at the La Salle hospital they discovered he had a fractured vertebra. The doctors curbed his clock-watching with a plaster case.

SUSPECT IN LIMA ROBBERY CAUGHT

By The Associated Press

DETROIT, Mich., May 22—Paul Temple, alias Louis Meddows, 32, was held by police today who sought to link him with a bank holdup here and the slaying of Police Sergt. Richard Rivers in Indianapolis last April 29. Detectives here said the car Temple was driving was stolen and resembled the one used in a Lima, O., robbery and the subsequent slaying of Rivers.

Temple's arrest was made at about the time Jack Becker, 30, jewelry salesman, pleaded guilty to receiving stolen property and was given a one to ten-year prison sentence in Chicago as an alleged member of the "new Dillinger" gang. He was seized with three others by police two days after Rivers was slain. The others are awaiting sentence scheduled June 16.

The last wheat crop of the Union of South Africa has been officially estimated at 6,052,000 200-pound bags, compared with between 3,000,000 and 4,600,000 bags for each of the three preceding years.

LUTHERAN MINISTER UNFROCKED BY SYNOD

Pastor of Two Churches Near Mansfield Held Violator of Marriage Code.

MANSFIELD, O., May 22—The Ohio Lutheran Synod yesterday voted, 160 to 72, to approve the discipline committee's report recommending the dismissal from the ministry of Rev. R. N. McMichael, pastor of Lutheran congregations at Lucas and Pleasant Valley villages, near here.

The committee unanimously had found Rev. Mr. McMichael guilty of "conduct incompatible with the moral purity of his ministerial office," after deliberating three and a half hours on testimony introduced in a hearing conducted behind closed doors.

He has the right of appeal to the synod.

"I am extremely gratified by the close vote of the synod," he said. Ninety votes were required to approve the report of the committee.

Mrs. Mr. McMichael petitioned the synod to dismiss the charges.

It was based on the contest in which the minister was charged in 1935 on grounds other than adultery or willful desertion, the only grounds recognized by the church.

Mrs. Mildred Snyder McMichael, his former wife, was granted an uncontested decree on grounds of extreme cruelty.

DARROW IN OHIO, TELLS OF FARM JOB

By The Associated Press

MARION, May 22—Clarence S. Darrow, 79 famed Chicago lawyer, visited his birthplace at nearby Kinsman yesterday, shook hands with old schoolmates and told of one of his earliest lessons.

"My first job was on a farm at $15 a month," he said. "I worked in the hay field one day and picked potato bugs half a day and then quit. I owe whatever success I had to hard work, a day and a half of it, and I've never worked hard since. That taught me a lesson."

BOSTON GIRL THWARTED IN PLANE LEAP ATTEMPT

Identified as Domestic After Flier's Grip on Her Hair Prevents Jump from Ship in Midair.

By The Associated Press

BOSTON, May 22 A young woman who Pilot Charles W Sutherland said attempted to leap from an airplane yesterday and was restrained only after a furious struggle was identified today by psychopathic hospital authorities announced as Miss Lucy 30 a Preston domestic

Dr Riley H Guthrie executive physician of the hospital said the girl had admitted her identity and explained she was employed in the house hold of a Boston attorney Members of the family whose name was withheld later came to the hospital and identified her Dr Guthrie said

Dr Guthrie did not offer any explanation for the girls behavior except that rather than to say she was in a state of extreme mental depression and would be held at the hospital 10 days for observation

Aside from his experience with the hard veteran pilot for intercity airplane brought his plane to a perfect landing at East Boston airport yesterday one hand grasping the ship s stick the other entwined in the curly chestnut locks of his passengers bobbed hair

Airport attaches answering SOS flare signals crisis for aid held the woman until police arrived

At police headquarters Capt William D Donovan said her only response to questions was Just take me a run

She went but refused to talk later at Boston psychopathic hospital She was held there under close watch pending further developments police said

The pilot declared the woman struggled and twisted and scratched in an effort to get free She bit the pilot he asserted like a wildcat

She had engaged the ship for an hour supposedly for a sight seeing trip

PUSH 5-YEAR FIGHT TO CUT ACCIDENTS

National Safety Sends Workers Into Field To Work With Officials

CHICAGO May Carrying its five-year fight to reduce automobile accidents 25 per cent by 1940 into the field of action the National Safety council has dispatched eight specially trained field secretaries into actions parts of the country to work directly with officials and civic bodies in their safety programs

District No 4 embracing Michigan Indiana Ohio Kentucky and West Virginia has been assigned to Gordon C Graham of Detroit who has been prominent in safety work for many years

The councils pledged aim of saving 38 000 lives during its five year drive is based on a firm belief that there exists a definite formula for preventing traffic accidents and that the solution of the problem lies in putting into practice tried and proven methods rather than in bringing forth new panaceas This formula is based on the successful experience of several cities and state which have brought about sizeable reductions in their death rates through planned prevention programs

Mr Graham will make available the best safety experience to the officials and civic bodies in his territory and will work directly with them in planning their activities In all cases he will work with organizations already engaged in safety work or if no such organization is now functioning with the body best fitted to do it

FOES OF NEW GUFFEY BILL WANT HEARING

Producers Say Industry Opposes Substitute Same as It Fought Original Law

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON May 22—With some backers of the new Guffey coal control bill predicting quick congressional action on it opponents demanded today an opportunity to express their views at a public hearing

Coal operators who fought the original Guffey act recently invalidated by the supreme court lined up to beat the proposed substitute

James Walter Carter and J D Francis two producers sent telegrams to congress saying

The majority of the industry opposed the original act We are confident the same formidable opposition exists to the proposed re enactment of its price fixing provisions

The proposed new act aims at government price fixing but omits labor provisions condemned by the supreme court as unconstitutional

Rep Vinson Democrat of Kentucky who introduced the legislation in the house while Sen Guffey Democrat of Pennsylvania was offering it in the senate said early action would be sought

SOUTH SEA ISLAND MYTHS DEBUNKED

Census Taker Scotches Stories of Romantic Paradise, Describes Native Life

By International News Service

LONDON Pictures of nut brown maidens with garlands of flowers round their necks reclining in the shade of palm trees were rudely dispelled at a Royal Geographical society lecture in London

After listening to the speaker T H Harrison who described a visit to Malekula New Hebrides in 1934 35 while taking a census of islands with a total of about 10 000 people it seems very obvious that South Sea island novelists have not told us the real truth

South Sea savage happy days and play pictures are absurd Harrison said

During the year I was in Big Nambas 70 men were killed about seven were taken back and eaten

All men live in a state of suppressed fear sudden death is always around the next twist in the liver dilly winding bush trail Again the gun has introduced an upsetting element a new and dreaded death that seems to the native unnatural

Harrison described the return of a war party with a dead enemy There is no mad rejoicing a party of men go at once to the gongs and beat out a particular rhythm which summons the village to the dancing ground Six of these drums form a group

The music gathers up the excitement on its own momentum outside the individual in a great wave sweeping over the plateau

To this mad music the men are dancing not with any notable abandon but with a purposeful incessance a night long repetition of set movements stampings and rushes suddenly while the corpse hangs carelessly over a carved face on the largest gong

The women prepare yam and firewood Next daylight the typical oven of red hot stones in a hole is made ready

MOSQUITOES TO BE DECORATED

Health Service To Color Insects To Trace Their Travel Habits

By United Press

MEMPHIS Tenn—A few of the mosquitoes are expected to blue and carmine this summer and in these new coats they will serve under the banners of science

Plans to dye several score number of pests rainbow hues to aid in tracing their migratory habits are under way in the United States public health service Mosquitoes are to be sprayed with an aniline dye at breeding places and later recaptured to discover extent of their cross-country trekking

Chicago will lead the van in the program calling for spraying of some 50 000 000 of the pests

Various spots over the country will be assigned individual colors Public health officials want to know if mosquitoes purposely or natural flame in say Atlanta or Richmond have Memphis or Houston as their birthplace

Process Tried Previously

The system is not a new one J A LePrince head of a public health service investigation in Memphis recalled the first known instance of the process use

In the Panama Canal Zone in 1912 mosquitoes were making life miserable for workers They harassed laborers and spread various diseases

LePrince and an assistant A P Proctor decided to ferret out breed

Daily Pattern for Home Use

BY ANNE ADAMS

FESTIVE FROCK—EASILY MADE, GIVES CHOICE OF SMART CONTRAST

Dedicated to coolness and charm is this dainty afternoon frock which you can make in a jiffy if you choose this charming Anne Adams model. And not one bit of style has been sacrificed to its simplicity of making. Rather does it gain in chic by the very deft cut of the yoke and sleeves in one, while the two front bows supply the sassy fillip you look for in a summer afternoon frock. A delightfully different effect may be achieved by the use of a contrasting color for the yoke-sleeves—so that you've two frocks from the same pattern. They're ever so easy to make, especially with aid of the Anne Adams step-by-step Sewing Instructor included with the pattern. Ideal in silk or cotton.

Pattern 4018 is available in sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42. Size 16 takes 5¾ yards 39 inch fabric.

Send fifteen cents (15c) in coins or stamps (coins preferred) for this Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly name, address and style number.

BE SURE TO STATE SIZE

Order your copy of our Anne Adams summer pattern book today. It shows how to make cool, smart clothes and plenty of them—for home wear, vacations, parties. Clear in the sun. See the special designs for stouts, the sturdy models for children, the latest frocks for bride and bridesmaids, the summer fabric news. Order this book now! Book fifteen cents. Pattern fifteen cents. Twenty-five cents for both, when ordered together.

BUSINESS NEWS SPURS STOCKS

Utilities, Steels and Industrial Issues Lead Upward March on Exchange.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, May 22—The stock market took a rosy look at generally bright business news today and bids for many of the leading shares were raised fractions to a point or more.

The utilities, steels and industrial specialties pointed the way upward.

Favorite issues on the buying side included Consolidated Edison, American Water Works, U. S. Steel, American Telephone, Western Union, Chrysler, Sears Roebuck, Johns-Manville, Westinghouse, J. I. Case, International Harvester, Philip Morris, Continental Can, Phillips Petroleum, Standard Oil of New Jersey, Amerada and National Lead.

Commodities, foreign currencies and bonds were narrow.

The rails were only moderately firm despite the fact that last week's freight car loadings, officially reported today, were up more than seasonal to the best level since October, 1935.

Week-end trade reviewers were impressed with the steady expansion of consumer buying, and further indications were seen of increased momentum in the forward movement.

The federal reserve system disclosed that, in the week ended Wednesday, the country's gold stocks increased $73,000,000 to a record peak of $10,376,000,000.

The French franc, at the beginning of foreign exchange transactions, was up .00½ of a cent at 6.58½ cents, and sterling was ¼ of a cent firmer at $4.97¼.

Boston Wool

By The Associated Press

BOSTON, May 22—Reports coming to Boston indicated continued strengthening in clean costs of wool being bought in the country. Prices of fine territory wool in Boston sales showed a strengthening tendency. Average good French combing length fine territory wools were bringing an estimated scoured basis price of around 85 cents more frequently than early in the week, and it was reported difficult to find similar wools offered at prices that would cost under 85 cents scoured basis. Long staple combing and terry wools in original bags brought up to 87@88 cents scoured basis for moderate quantities.
